UNITED STATES MILITARY CAUGHT IN IRAQ CAR-BOMBING ATTEMPT

It's happened again - allied troops being caught with bombs being used against Iraqi civilians to look like insurgent's attack. But this time, October 11, 2005, it is the Americans captured in the attempt to set off a car bomb in Baghdad.

According to the Mirror-World, "A number of Iraqis apprehended two Americans disguised in Arab dress as they tried to blow up a booby-trapped car in the middle of a residential area in western Baghdad on Tuesday.

Residents of western Baghdad's al-Ghazaliyah district [said] the people had apprehended the Americans as they left their Caprice car near a residential neighborhood in al-Ghazaliyah on Tuesday afternoon. Local people said they looked suspicious so they detained the men before they could get away. That was when they discovered that they were Americans and called the police."

Last time, Sept 19, two British soldiers, apparently working for British intelligence, were caught in Basra city equipped with a car bomb and shooting at civilians and police. They ran to an emergency meeting point after having made contact with their base when a uniformed Iraqi police unit stopped them. The British soldiers surrendered and each pulled out small Union flags and began shouting, "British forces, British forces". Iraqi police took them to jail, beat and interrogated them and photographed them just before several British tanks and helicopters attacked the police station, broke in the wall, fired and killed several Iraqi police in order to rescue the two men who it turns out had already been transferred by Iraqi police to a nearby house for their safety from the angry mob forming outside the station. They were immediately turned over to British troops without further questioning. Since then, these two men have disappeared and the British claim to have lost track.

Just as in the British incident last month, the two captured American men were removed from Iraq custody, this time by US military, and whisked away before any further questioning could take place.

The incidents are said to be fueling both puzzlement and animosity among Iraqis. Yet the motivation behind such activities remains formally unknown since in both cases the soldiers involved have been removed with an efficiency that has quashed any attempts at an interrogation.

Cars stolen in US used in suicide attacks. The inquiry began after coalition troops raided a Falluja bomb factory Nov. 2004 and found a reported stolen Texas-registered four-wheel-drive being prepared for a bombing mission.

WAR UPDATED 10-15-05

A Marine assigned to Regimental Combat Team 8, II Marine Expeditionary Force, died of wounds sustained while conducting combat operations against the enemy when his vehicle was attacked with an improvised explosive device in Saqlawiyah on Oct. 15. Also, five Soldiers were killed when their vehicle was attacked with an improvised explosive device in Ar Ramadi on Oct. 15.

Iraq delays final result of constitution vote from Oct. 15

BAGHDAD-Iraq's independent electoral commission said it was verifying the ballot count from the country's constitutional referendum held Oct. 15, and would have to delay the announcement of a final result for 'several more days after finding that the figures from most provinces were too high. [Gee, just like corrupted U.S. elections!!]

Sunni Arabs see the constitution as a recipe for the eventual breakup of Iraq into a Kurdish mini-state in the north and a Shi'ite one in the south. They also object to the document's failure to state clearly Iraq's Arab identity.

If frustrated Sunni Arabs see the new permanent constitution as sealing a political system they despise, some could be inspired to turn to the insurgency -- or at least grow more sympathetic to it as a force trying to right a wrong.

[It is clear from the history of Britain, France, Germany and the United States, that democracy is no guarantee of peace. Bush's war in Iraq, which was never the American people's war, has actually harmed more Americans than the Sept. 11th terrorist attacks at Twin Towers and Pentagon. Bring all US Troops home NOW! —The MAN]

WAR PRESIDENT and the TROOPS: SHAM Oct. 13

It was billed as a conversation with U.S. troops, but the questions Pres. Bush asked on a teleconference Thursday were choreographed to match his goals for the war in Iraq and Saturday's vote on the Iraqi constitution.

"This is an important time," Allison Barber, deputy assistant defense secretary, said, coaching the soldiers before Bush arrived. Barber said the president was interested in three topics: the overall security situation in Iraq, security preparations for the weekend vote and efforts to train Iraqi troops.

A rehearsal ensued, then the soldiers all gave Bush an upbeat view of the situation. The president also got praise from the Iraqi soldier who was part of the chat.

"Thank you very much for everything," he gushed. "I like you."

Paul Rieckhoff, director of the New York-based Operation Truth, an advocacy group for U.S. veterans of Iraq and Afghanistan, denounced the event as a "carefully scripted publicity stunt." Five of the 10 U.S. troops involved were P.R. officers, he said

Is Democracy Necessary For Freedom?

Americans oppose use of force to promote democracy because it is the worst form of government. In our representative Constitutional republic, the people rule the government, and the people are each Sovereign and equal to each other under law.

While democracy doesn't guarantee either freedom or peace, there are many historical examples of societies that did not have either elections or legislatures, but in which people's rights were strongly protected. Without democracy!

Examples include the American colonies before the Revolutionary War ... the American west in the 19th Century, where violence was 1/10th of what it is in large U.S. cities today ... many cantons in Switzerland today which have little government ... and the nations of Andorra and Monaco.

In fact, for centuries much of the world had law and order without legislatures or elected rulers. Instead they had what might be called "free market justice" provided by traveling judges adjudicating disputes, with decisions enforced by local communities and sheriffs.

This non-electoral legal system created what is today known as "the common law" ^ thousands of collected decisions, which provides the basis for law in America, Europe and much of the free world.

Throughout the world, thugs and despots ^ some democratically elected, and some not ^ solemnly give lip-service to "democracy" and "freedom," while doing everything in their power to deny such powers to their subjects.

To have a free and peaceful world, we must create societies in which the inalienable rights of the individual are again respected, and the powers of government are strictly limited. This is a constitutional republic, as USA was established in 1776.

It means abolishing sovereign-immunity laws which exempt government agents from legal responsibility when they kidnap, steal, torture and murder.

It means creating truly independent citizens' grand juries with the power to investigate, and indict corrupt government officials and police.

And it means ceasing government spying on its own citizens and ending foreign invasions to impose "democracy" by force. "Democracies have ever been spectacles of turbulence and conflict; have ever been found incompatible with personal security or the rights of property and have in general been as short in their lives as they have been violent in their deaths." —James Madison 4th President of the USA and primary framer of the US Constitution

To achieve a free and peaceful world, we must prevent the government bureaucracy from violating our God given rights to freedom and individual liberty that Americans established though the Constitution for the United States of America and the Republic [not a democracy] that is our Nation.

Manaba-Home Pumehana's TRO Case Dismissed Without Prejudice

Oct. 11 in Molokai District Court, a hearing was held to consider imposing a Restraining Order that was requested by Jersula Manaba and Dedric Manaba on Home Pumehana resident who is disabled wheelchair Linda Liddell. They accused her of video taping their minor children, hollaring and made menacing looks, and that someone informed them that Liddell has thoughts of killing the children, several months ago. Jersula said "My sons can no longer fulfill their normal household chores.....washing the laundry in the Home Pumehana community laundry room." Liddell and about 25 other Home Pumehana residents have been in a protracted dispute with Jersula Manaba who manages the senior residence facility regarding maintenance, security, vindictive management, and unsupervised children causing disturbances there. Liddell was dismayed that Manaba's had a TRO was put on her without justification. Judge Ige dismissed the case without prejudice after all parties agreed to work out their differences.

Two more TRO cases prosecuted by Manabas against Home Pumehana residents volunteer advocates Donovan and Lorna Keliipuleole were also dismissed without prejudice on the same condition that they all work out their differences.

LTE: Prayers for Larissa

Aloha, my name is Singleton K. Gross and I am a poé Hawai'i of Moloka'i. I now live in Alaska and I am emailing you in regards to Larissa K. Wright who died in a car crash on O'ahu, this past Tuesday. I cant get a hold of her family, I searched the web for this newspaper specifically because her whole family lives in Kaunakakai and everyone on the island reads your newspaper. I ask of you with kindness in my heart if you could print something in your paper for me. Larissa was and will always be in my heart. I have grown with her, seen her make decisions that I wasn't proud of but still supported her in every way. My heart goes out to Grandma Kanae, Braddah, and Leroy. #### LTE Maunaloa School Mahalos

Too often we hear the bad things that are happening on our island. I would like to tell you about something good that happened to Maunaloa School. The last few days before intersession, our school had a major electrical problem. (Just wait, the good part is coming) Our main power box went down. We had very little power and only in pockets. Our kitchen could not function. Mahiki had to send (Thanks Kawai) all our frozen foods to Kaunakakai School (Thanks Judy) and the High School helped out on Thursday (Thanks Naomi). The best part was to come on Friday. The power was still down. We were going to have to close the school if we couldn't feed the kids but the Ranch came to the rescue. Thanks to Terri Waros of the Lodge and her staff, we were able to serve our children. Thanks for a great job by Pam Borden and her staff in the kitchen, cooking our food and Paulette Espaniola and John Perez for delivering both to and from the school. Thanks again to Molokai Ranch for a terrific job helping our kids and community. Patricia Kuwaye Cafeteria Manager-Maunaloa School

Dear Letters Editor: BIG BANG!

When people around the world accepts the fact that evolution is a fact, and the big bang is the real beginning of the universe, we may see something resembling peace in this world. Most encyclopedias now explain evolution as a fact.

The National Geographic Society and IBM, with their Genographic project, have shown conclusively that our species began in Africa. Astronomers, and others, have shown that the hydrogen from the big bang was the beginning of a chemical process that resulted in the formation of all the elements of the periodic table. Mathematicians and others in the physical sciences, have shown that the laws of physics are just as Einstein and Newton proclaimed. When these truths finally are accepted by most people; most will have to give up their belief, or faith, in the supernatural God of the Torah, Bible, Koran, and most other religious documents that proclaim a supernatural God. Hopefully, many of the disagreements on religious dogma, such as; homosexuality, abortion, preserving life beyond ones wishes, and others, will be accepted as personal choices, not to be made by others. Respectfully, Larry J. Kluth 2550 So. Ellsworth Rd. Unit 197 Mesa, AZ 85209 480-380-1732 olestormy@aol.com
