A Vet Who Understood the Bill of Rights Dies After Expose

A military burial at Homelani Cemetary for Lt. Richard L.W. Smith, US Navy, Retired on November 25, 2009. Molokai vets also conducted a procession to honor his efforts to direct medical aid to veterans and his support for the construction of a Vet Center in Kaunakakai. [mahalos to Mike Machado for the alert to this event]

Molokai resident Lt. Richard Smith, USN ret. was a victim of military testing of radiation and biological agents in the 1960's, suffering cancers and other ailments. He is concerned for all veterans used in the secretive military policy of chemical testing, the need for better care for vets, and educating the public about such unethical operations against American citizens perpetrated by the very government agents who violate the Constitution for the united States of America and the Bill of Rights that the vets swore to uphold and defend against enemies, foreign and DOMESTIC. [December 15 is Bill of Rights Day]

Having moved back to Molokai and living with his deceased wife Sadie Wallace's family for a while, Richard told The MAN reporter that he served on the USS Granville S. Hall [YAG40] from 1965 to 1968 as an engineering officer. His ship was exposed to heavy radiation before he came aboard while in Operation Crossroads, Castle, Wigwam, Redwing, but he soon exhibited signs of radiation sores on his face. But that is not all. His ship was used for testing Biological and chemical warfare agents in 1968 at Enewetok Atoll. He was also concerned about the other ship, YAG 39 George Eastman with five tugboats that were used for bio/chem testing. He says he could get no informations from the military to support claims of service disability, not even records of immunization shots given as medical records. Vets with related medical problems have no place to turn, he lamented.

Part of the story became public knowledge in 1996 when the Pentagon admitted that Pesian Gulf War vets had been exposed to chemical and biological weapons when they blew up ammunition dumps in Iraq full of the chem/bio weapons supplied to Saddam Hussein by the US and Allies. Smith documented that the military had lied to vets about the toxic effects just like they lied about Agent Orange in Viet Nam, and radiation from Depleted Unarium ammo that was used by the US in the 1991 War on Iraq.

Smith died November 9, 2009. He was 79 years old, an American patriot.

TREASON AGAINST VETS.....documentary every American should see.

This documentary reveals how for decades, top secret government projects worked virtually non-stop to perfect means of controlling the human mind. Though for many years the government denied that these projects even existed, the details have long been preserved in thousands of pages of now declassified government documents reluctantly released through the Freedom of Information Act. LSD and electroshock in huge doses given to unsuspecting citizens are only a part of the unbelievable program revealed by these declassified documents.

Economy & Unemployment

As Maui Pineapple closes down now, it reflects a nationwide problem.

Employers already are squeezed by tight credit, rising health care costs, wary consumers and a higher minimum wage. Now, the surging jobless rate is imposing another cost. It's forcing higher state taxes on companies to pay for unemployment insurance claims.

Some employers say the extra costs make them less likely to hire. That could be a worrisome sign for the economic recovery, because small businesses create about 60 percent of new jobs.

Sam Schlosser, owner of Plymouth Foundry Inc. in Plymouth, Ind., said his unemployment tax bill could double next year. Revenue at the family-owned company, which makes iron castings for machine parts, has fallen about 50 percent, he said. In case of higher taxes, his company may have to consider layoffs, he said. Obama's failed so called "stimulus" only compounds this problem.

A lot of people — including a lot of business owners — don't understand how this works. Because the government cuts the unemployment check, it is widely assumed that it's the government that pays the unemployment benefits. In reality, those benefits are funded by employer taxes. And here's the killer: The more unemployment benefits your former employees collect, the higher your taxes go.

It works like insurance. If the government pays a claim, your rates go up. In fact, if your former employee collects $10,000 in unemployment payments, you can expect to pay close to twice that in increased premiums. At least that's how it works in my state, Illinois.

Thus, this becomes another cost of doing business that smart owners attempt to control. How do you control it? By making as few hires as possible, by making sure that those hires you do make are as strong as possible, and by combining documented rules with good management.

And now, thanks to the stimulus package, unemployment insurance has been extended as much as an additional 20 weeks. If you've had to lay off 10 people, this could easily result in additional taxes of $10,000, $50,000, or even $100,000. It's a time bomb that won't go off until after employers get their contribution-rate increase in November, but it will go off.

And therein lies the final irony: Even after the economy improves, I'm going to think long and hard before I hire anyone. Thanks to the stimulus package — the stimulus package — the costs, paperwork, and legal exposure associated with hiring employees is on the rise.

Despite a sharp drop in the dollar, a spike in commodity prices, Obama-nomics increases national debt and pretends the economy is in recovery.

"You are a den of vipers and thieves. I intend to rout you out, and by the grace of the Eternal God, I will rout you out"

--Andrew Jackson

The cyclical bull market in stocks and positive print on GDP has caused some on Wall Street and in Washington to claim the recession has ended. Despite all the good economic news, an end to fiscal and monetary stimulus is nowhere in sight, precisely because policymakers know the happy news is artificially derived.

A closer look indicates that neither the administration nor the Federal Reserve believes its own recovery rhetoric. They understand that the economy will not prosper without continued life support, i.e., free paper money debt notes.

Taxpayers must wake up to the truth: All public debt is ultimately the responsibility of the private sector to pay off--either directly or through future taxes. As a result, the economy has never been more precarious than it is today, because the truth is that a country cannot devalue itself to prosperity.

Inflation lies behind all infirm currencies, and it is inflation that destroys the purchasing power of consumers. The diminished value of their wallets leaves them with the ability to buy only non-discretionary items. As a direct result, unemployment rates soar and economic output plunges like on Molokai.

Obama may put USA under jurisdiction of foreign judges?!

Barack Obama has dispatched a delegation to The Hague to explore issues involving the United States' possible participation in the International Criminal Court, an organization critics charge could be used to prosecute Americans under international legal standards for actions that are not crimes in the U.S.

Ambassador Stephen Rapp said "The Obama administration would like the U.S. to be a party to the court."

Mathew Staver, lead attorney for Liberty Counsel and dean of Liberty University Law School, said U.S. membership in the ICC would be a mistake.

"This administration is globalist and transnationalist and wants to bring this country into the global system. The U.S. stands to have its citizens being prosecuted by the international court in The Hague and have its citizens come under the world court's jurisdiction," he said.

WND columnist David Limbaugh has raised similar concerns.

"Transnationalists," he wrote, "believe that American judges, in interpreting our Constitution, can resort to this 'community of reason' (foreign laws) to choose between two 'plausible' legal positions."

It is the global community, he wrote, that such transnationalists "look to" to determine standards.

In his book, "Global Deception," author Joseph Klein warns that the International Criminal Court is just one building block of a "brave new world" already under way.

He said the court would have "secret proceedings that would make terrorist trials look open by comparison" and suggested the plan is for them to "take precedence over the U.S. judicial system."

Wake up Americans: your right to Keep and Bear Arms is toast if Obama is successful in adding the USA to the ICC's jurisdiction. Its TREASON !

Prosecute Obama for the high crime of TREASON.....NOW!

NOAA Humpback Whale Council Opportunity for MHS

Sanctuary Seeks Applicants for Advisory Council – Including a Newly Created Youth/Student Seat

NOAA's Hawaiian Islands Humpback Whale National Marine Sanctuary is seeking to fill eight primary seats and eight alternate seats on its advisory council.

The council's role is to provide the sanctuary management with advice on resource protection, research, education and outreach programs. Topics that the council is currently addressing include: ocean acidification, protection of areas of cultural and biological importance, response and rescue efforts for marine animals, vessel-whale collisions, proposed development activities within sanctuary waters, and planning to engage communities and seek public input during the review and revision process for the sanctuary's current management plan.

The sanctuary is currently accepting applications for primary and alternate seats representing Native Hawaiians, Fishing, Education, Research, Honolulu County, Hawaii County, Maui County, and Kauai County. Candidates will be selected based on their expertise and experience in relation to the seat for which they are applying, community and professional affiliations, and views regarding the protection and management of marine resources.

Additionally, for the first time, the sanctuary is seeking to fill a non-voting youth/student seat and alternate seat to represent the youth segment of the community, defined as ages 14-17. The interest and enthusiasm of youth under the age of 18 is very important to the sanctuary; these students are our future generation of ocean stewards and leaders. The sanctuary wishes to foster and facilitate these links with youth in sanctuary communities and has added a non-voting youth seat to the advisory council.

Applications are due by Jan. 31, 2010. To receive an application kit or for further information, please contact council coordinator Joe Paulin via e-mail at Joseph.Paulin@noaa.gov, by toll free at 1-888-559-4253, ext. 257, or visit the sanctuary website at <http://hawaiihumpbackwhale.noaa.gov>. Completed applications should be submitted to: Joe Paulin, Hawaiian Islands Humpback Whale National Marine Sanctuary, 6600 Kalaniana'ole Hwy, Suite 301, Honolulu, Hawaii 96825. Giving Back Fall Prevention Project of Paia is Recognized Thomas J. Moran, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Mutual of America Life Insurance Company, announced that Giving Back Fall Prevention Project, Paia, Hawaii, was named a Merit Finalist for the 2009 Mutual of America Community Partnership Award, for recruiting and training active seniors to mentor frail, at-risk elders in movement exercises that enhance balance, vision, coordination and cognitive functions.

Giving Back Fall Prevention Project keeps active mentors healthy and engaged in their communities, and gives frail elders an effective way to prevent injuries due to falls, which are the leading cause of fatalities and injury-related hospitalizations among Hawaii residents age 65 and older. All the seniors involved benefit and have the opportunity to make new friends and have fun together in movement exercises that enhance balance, vision, coordination and cognitive functions. In general, the frail elders set the pace, with mentors adapting the movements to fit the level and capabilities of participants in the program.

Kaunoa Senior Services refers frail elders to the Fall Prevention Project's movement classes at 16 different community meal sites it operates on the island of Maui. The Maui District Health Office provides funding and independent evaluations of the project.

Giving Back® Fall Prevention Project currently serves 750 seniors. It has been shown to improve balance, coordination, focus, concentration and memory, all of which help prevent injuries. Giving Back has published a training manual for Fall Prevention Project mentors and aims to open four new project sites each year for the next three years. Giving Back's goal is to replicate the program in Hawaii and the mainland US. "Our society worships youth and discards the elderly. I'd like to see that change," says Karen Peterson, founder and executive director of Giving Back®. "This program is about honoring our elders, keeping them healthy and fit so they can give back their gifts to the community."

Bill of Rights 2nd Amendment:
“A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.”

Wake up militia! Use it , or lose it ! Got your gun, yet?

"...with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, or fortunes and our sacred honor."

(Unanimous Declaration of Independence)

If you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed, and, if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly, you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival. There may even be a worse case. You may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than live as slaves.

"And how we burned in the camps later, thinking: What would things have been like if every Security operative [insert your favorite alphabet Gang DEA, BATFE, H.S., TSA, FBI, IRS, NSA, CIA, LEOs etc. here], when he went out at night to make an arrest, had been uncertain whether he would return alive and had to say goodbye to his family? Or if, during periods of mass arrests, as for example in Leningrad, when they arrested a quarter of the entire city, people had not simply sat there in their lairs, paling in terror at every bang of the downstairs door and at every step on the staircase, but had understood they had nothing left to lose [neither do you now] and had boldly set up in the downstairs hall an ambush of half a dozen people with axes, hammers, pokers, or whatever else was at hand. Gun Rights Refresher

1. An armed man is a citizen. An unarmed man is a subject.
2. A gun in the hand is better than a cop on the phone.
3. If guns cause crime, then pencils cause misspelled words.
4. "Free" men do not ask permission to bear arms.
5. If you don't know your rights you don't have any.
6. Those who trade liberty for security have neither.
7. What part of "shall not be infringed" do you not understand?
8. The Second Amendment is to enforce the other 9 Amendments.
9. 64,999,987 firearms owners killed no one yesterday.
10. Guns only have two enemies; rust and politicians.
11. Know guns, know peace, know safety.
12. No guns, no peace, no safety.
13. You don't shoot to kill; you shoot to stay alive.
14. 911 - government sponsored Dial-a-Prayer.
15. Assault is a behavior, not a gun device.
16. Criminals love gun control -- it makes their jobs safer.
17. If guns cause crime, then matches cause arson.
18. Only a government that is afraid of citizens prohibits guns.
19. You only have the rights you are willing to fight for.
20. Remove the people's right to bear arms, you create slaves.
21. The American Revolution was about gun control.

Crimes of Politicians Must Be Stopped by The People (You are The Militia)

The crime on our streets is a tiny fraction of the crime in the offices of our politicians and bureaucrats - the massive majority of crime is committed by the criminal classes in power. Just look at the constant abuse of power in our State government offices and you will realize the extent of crime in Government. Just consider just how many BILLIONS of dollars a day Government extorts from the people and how little WE get in return; and just how comfortable the politicians make themselves at the expense of the peoples they extort!

The goal of the founders of America was to restrict government within severe limits and to protect the rights of sovereign individuals. Government has NO rights!

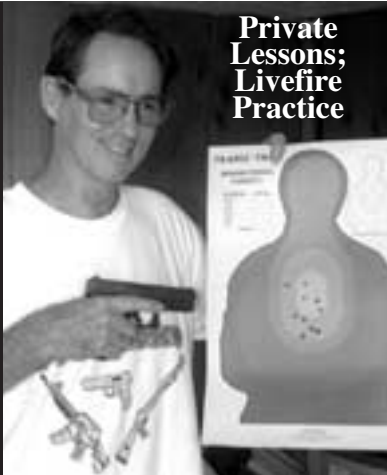

Judges are impeachable. Furthermore, judges may be removed immediately for violating oaths of office, involvement in conspiracies, extortion, and failing to uphold their duty to the common law. Judges can also be arrested, they are not exempt from this nor are any other officials, including the President of the United States.

Do the people have the power to do this? Yes, the people have the power to do everything to defend our country against all enemies foreign or domestic politician, and government has no power to say otherwise. Fascist bureaucrats might send out its armed marauders, but a huge group of The People (Militia) armed with guns as guaranteed their Right to keep and bear arms by the 2nd Amendment is likely to stop them unless the governments decide that it is time to begin mass killings of all people who believe in the rights of Man.

Wake up ! Enforce the Bill of Rights !

"A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed." Exercise the 2nd Amendment.

Democrats Mask-a-Raid on Troop Funding Bill to Legitimize Homosexuality

Obama's military policy is now trying to legitimize homosexuality, after democrat party House leaders added on to a military funding bill to pass special federal protection to homosexuals as part of the $680 billion Defense Authorization bill, a maneuver that Rep. Tom Price (R-Ga.) called a "disgrace."

The Democratic majority "should be ashamed at the way it has used the needs of our men and women in uniform as a platform for a partisan agenda," he said as Speaker Nancy Pelosi hijacked the bill H.R. 2647 to add Obama's hate bill.

131 Republicans and 15 Democrats opposed the Obama/Pelosi hate crimes addition to the military spending bill, but in the end it wasn't enough to stop it.

After the vote, opponents were frank in their disappointment--not only because hate crimes passed, but because democrats used an otherwise popular military bill to infringe on the very freedom our soldiers are fighting for." This is radical social policy that ... is being put on the defense authorization bill, on the backs of our soldiers, because it can't pass it on its own," reporters were told.

The first prize on a very long wish list for homosexuals, "hate crimes" now heads to the Senate for approval. Contact your Senators today and ask them to stop the real crime: leaders who abuse their power to advance irrelevant special interests.

Nominations Sought for Papahnaumokukea Educators Workshop

Educators and conservation leaders have an opportunity to more intimately understand Papahnaumokukea Marine National Monument's wildlife and cultural resources through a workshop being offered on Oahu and Midway Atoll in 2010. Nominations to attend the workshop are being sought now through Jan. 4, 2010.

This workshop is designed to create a greater understanding of the Monument and to inspire community environmental stewardship at a grassroots level. The program, Papahnaumokukea Ahahui Alaka i, which was offered for the first time in 2009, will take place June 12-22, 2010.

The first three days will be spent on Oahu preparing, learning natural and cultural history, and meeting with past participants. The remaining seven days will be spent on remote Midway Atoll within the Monument, located 1,250 miles northwest of Honolulu. Participants will need to provide their own transportation to Oahu as well as lodging and meals during the three days in Honolulu. At Midway Atoll transportation, lodging, and food costs will be covered by the workshop.

The Papahnaumokukea Ahahui Alaka i program is accepting nominations from educators in formal and informal settings, community leaders, and people in positions that support community change and stewardship. Up to 12 people will be chosen to participate. Both U.S. and international nominees are welcome. Participants will be chosen based on their written nominations, their letters of support, and their capacity to fulfill the program's need for a strong variety of skills and abilities. In addition, potential participants are asked to submit a draft plan for an environmental stewardship project that will be modified throughout the workshop and implemented in their communities.

More information about the workshop is available by contacting email linda.schubert@noaa.gov or phone (808) 933-8181, or visit our website at <http://papahanaumokuakea.gov>

Nominations must be postmarked by January 4, 2010.

Obama's War Against Veracity: Lies

We have witnessed Obama's war against demands he prove his birthplace, and now we see: Outright historical dissimulation. On matters of history, we now know that much of what President Obama says is either not factual or at least misleading. He predictably errs on the side of political correctness. During the campaign, there was his inaccurate account of his great-uncle's role in liberating Auschwitz. In Berlin, he asserted that the world — rather than the American and British air forces — came together to pull off the Berlin Airlift.

In the Cairo speech, nearly every historical allusion was nonfactual or inexact: the fraudulent claims that Muslims were responsible for European, Chinese, and Hindu discoveries; the notion that a Christian Córdoba was an example of Islamic tolerance during the Inquisition; the politically correct canard that the Renaissance and Enlightenment were fueled by Arab learning; the idea that abolition and civil rights in the United States were accomplished without violence — as if 600,000 did not die in the Civil War, or entire swaths of Detroit, Gary, Newark, and Los Angeles did not go up in flames in the 1960s.

Here we see the omnipotent influence of Obama's multicultural creed: Western civilization is unexceptional in comparison with other cultures, and history must be the story of an ecumenical, global shared brotherhood.

When he cites European colonialism's pernicious role in the Middle East, does he mention nearly 400 years of Ottoman Muslim colonial rule in the Arab-speaking world? Or the Muslim world's own role in sending several million sub-Saharan Africans to the Middle East as slaves? By no stretch of the imagination is purported Western bias against Islam commensurate with the Islamic threats that have been issued to Danish cartoonists, British novelists, the pope, or German opera
