A Special Books with Buddies Day at Kilohana School

by S. Peabody

November 28 was a SPECIAL Books with Buddies Day at Kilohana School. Included in the celebration of reading was a workshop for parents, Books with Buddies and “Just Because”.

K-3rd grade Reading Coach, Shona Pineda began the Books with Buddies Day with a Literacy workshop for parents. Parents who attended the brief workshop were eligible to receive a book for their child from the Book Fair selections through sponsorship of Reading First. Mrs. Pineda stressed the importance of parents and families reading aloud to build relationships, develop reading interest and skills. She also explained the correlation between reading and vocabulary development.

The children at Kilohana keep reading logs with the help and support of parents and adults around them. Students are encouraged to think about the “narrative” and or “expository” stories they read or listen to.

Reading Aloud with Children helps develop language -- even before they learn to actually decode the words and write the words. Hearing stories, poetry, non-fiction, songs provides the foundation for children to develop listening skills. Reading aloud provides parents with essential building memories and connections for later at the reading table. While parents and other adults read, children observe many things about the print and illustrations on the page as they sit on laps or close by.

A handout gave hints for “after reading strategies,” such as asking the child to retell the story, look at pictures together, asking what happens, and giving positive feedback or gentle prompting. Relating stories to personal experiences or feelings expressed in the stories helps children begin to learn about verbalizing and being given permission to talk about their experiences or feelings. Valuable “Read Aloud Pitfalls” aimed the message as “Reading is fun. Let’s do it again soon.” For a copy see Mrs. Pineda. Helpful flash cards remind students to ask the questions about content, making predictions or remembering characters in a book.

Reading aloud to children of all ages builds a storehouse of knowledge that can be used to later connect to conversations anywhere, not just in school. Children get precious and personal information from books they use, remember to talk, read, or write. Children learn the Joy of Reading.

The workshop concluded with a visit to the Scholastic Book Fair with volunteer librarian Andrea Benis and the School Wide Reading with Buddies.

The regular Reading with Buddies is an opportunity for school staff and friends to sit together in small group to read a book each chooses, or for younger children to have a book read to them. The fifteen minute event happens outdoors, everyone brings their hali'i or mat and a favorite or current book. The November Books with Buddies day was SPECIAL were also treated to a “Just Because” snack for all students.

PCNC facilitator Louise Miguel explained the day and the school theme continues to be building relationships through partnerships. The students and families of Kilohana along with the staff and community work, play and share the Joy of Reading together.

PCNC coordinates the contributions of Ohana Support, Primary School Adjustment Program and KSCO (Kilohana School Community Organization) to provide the raw materials and work to bring together the school community for students

Heart, Brain & Vascular Center at Maui Memorial Medical Center

Recently on the evening news, the Heart, Brain and Vascular Center featured the latest lifesaving and life preserving procedures at Maui Memorial Medical Center. The Heart, Brain and Vascular Center is performing some of the most advanced procedures in the state, including stroke therapy and interventional radiology treatments. Plans are underway for expansion of services to include angioplasty and open heart surgery.

Opened in 1894 as “Malulani” (Protection of Heaven) by Queen Kapiolani, who placed the hospital under special patronage of Her Royal Highness the young Princess Lili'uokalani and the Franciscan sisters: Mother Marianne, sister Renata and Sister Antonella. Financial responsibility for Malulani Hospital was assumed by the County of Maui in 1927. In 1952, a 140-bed Central Maui Memorial Hospital, dedicated to Maui's veterans, opened its doors.

In 1956 all acute care was consolidated under Central Maui Memorial in 1956 after Paia, Puunene and Lahaina Hospitals closed. It became Maui Memorial Hospital in 1963, and in 1966, operations were transferred from the County to the State of Hawaii. Now, since 1997, Hawaii Health Systems Corporation (HHSC) took over along with administration of 11 other state hospitals and the name was changed to Maui Memorial Medical Center.

Lost Boat Damaged Reef: Liability?

Leimana Naki, caretaker of Kahinapohaku fishpond, saw the drifting yacht hit the reef, busting coral as the storm battered the boat through to to a sandy spot where neighbors and MFD rescued it. But, Leimana is concerned about why boat owners allow this to happen. Is it negligence? Shouldn't owners pay for damaging the reef? A living reef is vital to our Islands Life. Whose boat is this?

Winter is here!

The new bridge at Kainalu prevented the highway from flooding as in the past, its very smooth, but the riverbank apparently needs more support to prevent flooding of adjacent property. About 12 inches of rain and driving Kona winds (gusts to 35mph) measured in Waialua between Dec. 1 and Dec 7 on saturated land had the river finding a wider route, surrounding George Manintin's house via the lowest part of the riverwall part of the bridge ending. Hmm, fix it.

Mahalo Letter from UCC Topside Churches

Mahalo to all who helped make our bazaar on November 3rd such a success: The merchants and individuals that donated fabulous prizes for our lucky number drawing; the church members and friends that sold tickets, set up and cleaned up, donated items to be sold, and volunteered to run booths the day of the bazaar; and everyone on Molokai who bought a chicken hekka dinner plate, a lucky number ticket, or goodies at the bazaar.

Your kokua makes it possible for our four churches (Hoolehua, Kalaikamanu Hou, Kaluaaha, and Waialua Congregational Churches) to maintain our schedule of worship services and activities.

With aloha,
Louise Miguel, Chairperson

DEA Raids Investigated; Gun Free Zone are Killing Fields

Ed Kubo
US Attorney

editorial by George Peabody for The MAN
Hawaii US Attorney drug warrior Ed Kubo, MPD Chief Thomas Phillips et al must be included in investigation by Congressional committee of raid tactics by DEA.

Last week, Congressional House Judiciary Committee Chair, Rep. Conyers pledged to investigate the DEA's ongoing tactics that have resulted in death, serious injury, property destruction, prisons full of non violent drug users, and they threaten the safety and security of state licensed medical marijuana patients, providers, and innocent landlords. Conyers' commitment to question DEA attacks on medical marijuana states has brought holiday cheer to medical marijuana patients.

Hawaii U.S. Attorney Ed Kubo visited Molokai recently without notifying The MAN reporters who would have pinned him down in public on the fraud and criminality of his actions promoting the ultra vires Drug War. But, it was reported he said "The deterioration of the soul leads to drug abuse," and Kubo did not explain how moral weakness justifies criminal prosecutions and prison for the rest of one's life, family destruction and being terrorized, injured or murdered in a DEA-MPD drug raid, college loan rejects and criminal records, and the resulting underground drug trade by criminally corrupt police and prison guards and attorneys. But, Kubo expanded his message of drug war terror, proclaiming "We are going to spread our wings; we are going to do enforcement on all of the islands." [Sounds like the Devil Himself speaking!]

Since the DEA began raiding state licensed medical cannabis dispensing offices in 2002, Congress has never held a hearing to investigate the goal of these raids, how much these raids are costing taxpayers in both dollars and precious resources, or what impact these raids are having on patients and the state and local governments attempting to regulate the distribution of medical marijuana in accordance with state law.

A Congressional House oversight investigation is an important and significant opportunity for Constitutional Patriots and the medical marijuana community in Hawaii and nationwide to expose the DEA criminals and their leading U.S. Attorney Generals such as Linda Lingle and her fascist drug warrior US attorney Ed Kubo.

DEA/Kubo and MPD's impromptu armed dawn raids on Molokai residences based on the testimony of shadowy neighborhood informants wouldn't look out of place in Communist East Germany but we are told by police and politicians that it is the new Amerika, the new Hawaii, and that we should shut up and accept it, and he will give you money to make it easier.

U.S. Attorney Kubo, facing termination of his position as Hawaii's top federal prosecutor at the end of President Bush's term next year, is on a whirlwind tour of the islands at Taxpayer expense like a future political candidate for Congress, expounding on his ability to bring federal dollars to support more DEA drug war terrorism. Included in his visit to Molokai was a closed to reporters meeting with Molokai Police to "learn more about crimes occurring on the island" where US Attorney Ed Kubo has absolutely no jurisdiction. Kubo is conspiring with MPD chief Thomas Phillips and Molokai DARE officer Lonnie Caparida, Sgt. Tim Meyers et al, with millions of dollars for cooperating with feds to terrorize Hawaii residents, to steal private property in under the guise of the War on Drugs, which is really a War on Americans: its Treason.

Kubo declared that Hawaii is number ONE in the nation for drug use. Kubo knows that as long as that perception is maintained, federal funding keeps rolling in to support more of Lingle's oppressive Police State and his DEA goon squads consorting with Maui Police, ultra vires against the Constitution for the united States of America, and the Hawaii Constitution.

But US Attorney Ed Kubo, Caprida, Meyer, Phillips and MPDet al ignore the truth and facts to rationalize their unlawful treasonous actions: 30 years and billions of dollars for the War on Drugs and it is a clear failure that has caused more harm in deaths, broken families, property loss, and filled prisons with mostly non violent drug users; the main beneficiaries of the War on Drugs are police and prosecutors, politicians, and the Prison Industry; DEA/Police raids aggravate the problems associated with marijuana production and research, driving up prices and attracting criminal elements and their violence and making the medicine difficult to obtain by licensed patients; Ed Kubo/Lingle/MPD are criminals for violating the Constitution for the united States of America with their drug war and Police State tactics which are obviously intended to make people afraid, to convince people to give up their rights, to force people to submit to an external authority, and to punish "non-believers."

I will paraphrase US Attorney Kubo: The deterioration of the soul leads to a Drug Warrior Fascist mindset and criminal behavior that is TREASON.

STOP THE DRUG WAR—Its WORSE than DRUGS!

SUPPORT the Hinchey Medical Marijuana Amendment

The US Supreme Court upheld the DEA ban on medical use of marijuana. While this ruling did not change law in Hawaii that provides medical marijuana protections, US Attorney Ed Kubo and his DEA goons act like they have the consent of the governed to use Taxpayers' money to undermine the will of the voters, and violate the rights of American Citizens with War on Drugs.

I think that is wrong, and I urge you to take an important opportunity to support the Hinchey amendment at Congress in the debate over the Science-State-Justice-Commerce Appropriations bill. I would prohibit the federal government from arresting, raiding or prosecuting patients who are abiding by state medical marijuana laws.

Medical marijuana patients and their providers should not have to live in fear that police will break down their doors and take them to jail because of their choice of medicine, certainly not in Hawaii whose voters and legislators made laws to protect them. That is a horrendous state of affairs, and it is irrational to divert federal money to attacking patients. The MAN

Crime Reduction Seen as Freedom Grows

Former US Surgeon General, Dr. Joycelyn Elders said that drug legalization would reduce crime, because its clear that prohibition of drugs causes crime. The loss each day to our safety, our liberties.... is just too great.... she pleaded.

Elders said later was that more people agreed with her than were willing to admit it publicly. Senators came up to her at airports, saying she was right and they agreed, but politically they couldn't say so. With the exception of presidential candidate Ron Paul, a long-time opponent of the drug war. He favors ending drug prohibition, most of the other Republican and Democate candidates embrace the drug warrior mantle.

A week after voters in Denver for the third time in as many years sent a strong signal that they don't want adult marijuana smokers arrested, the city of Denver is moving to comply with the will of the voters. In response to the 57% passage of an initiative making adult marijuana possession offenses the city's lowest law enforcement priority, Mayor John Hickenlooper announced this week that he will create an 11-member panel to oversee and implement the initiative.

Denver voted to legalize the possession of up to an ounce of marijuana by adults in 2005, but city officials have refused to recognize that act, instead ticketing people on the basis of the state marijuana law. They could still do that, Denver Police Chief Gerry Whiteman said in a statement.

"When an individual is cited for possession of less than an ounce of marijuana -- as Colorado state law requires -- it is generally because the marijuana was uncovered by police during the course of investigating another crime," said Whiteman.

"We are glad to see our mayor and city officials will be respecting the will of the voters, and we look forward to working with them toward a more sensible marijuana policy in the city of Denver," responded SAFER leader Mason Tvert.

Denver had nearly 1,400 marijuana possession cases last year. Seattle, a similarly-sized city which passed a lowest priority initiative in 2003, and whose municipal officials have cooperated with it, had just 125.

HISTORY You Did NOT Know? 99% of Americans Would NOT Use Drugs Even if they were Legalized

Zogby Poll Suggests Prohibition Doesn't Reduce Use

Celebrating the 74th anniversary of the repeal of national Alcohol Prohibition, StoptheDrugWar.org today released polling results suggesting that drug prohibition's main supporting argument may be simply wrong. Drug policy reformers point to a wide range of demonstrated social harms created by the drug laws -- crime and violence, spread of infectious diseases, official corruption, easy funding for terrorist groups, to name a few -- while prohibitionists argue that use and addiction would explode if drugs were legalized. But is the prohibitionist assumption well-founded?

Zogby polling data released today asked, "If hard drugs such as heroin or cocaine were legalized, would you be likely to use them?" Ninety-nine percent of respondents answered, "No." Only 0.6 percent said "Yes." The remaining 0.4 percent weren't sure.

The results are similar to usage rates occurring today under the "drug war," as measured by the federal government's National Survey on Drug Use and Health (formerly the National Household Survey). The 2006 NSDUH found 0.3 percent of the population had used heroin in the past month and 2.4 percent had used cocaine. Even for cocaine, the numbers are compatible, because Zogby surveyed persons aged 18 years and up, while NSDUH begins with age 12; and because of the poll's statistical margin of error of 3.1 percentage points.

A comparison of drug use rates in countries with criminal penalties for drug use with the drug use rates of countries that have decriminalized personal use also suggests that policy may play only a secondary role in determining use rates. For example, in the Netherlands, where marijuana is sold openly in the famous "coffee shops," 12 percent of young adults age 15-24 reported using marijuana during 2005, as compared with 24 percent in neighboring France, where marijuana is an arrestable offense, according to data compiled by the European Monitoring Center for Drugs and Drug Addiction.

In the United States, where police make nearly 800,000 marijuana arrests each year, young adults age 18-25 in the 2004-2005 survey year reported past-year marijuana use at the rate of 27.9 percent.

David Borden, StoptheDrugWar.org's executive director, commented when releasing the Zogby data: "Prohibition is sending hundreds of billions of dollars per year into the global criminal underground. That money fuels crime and disorder on the streets of our cities, while simultaneously helping to finance international terrorist organizations. Meanwhile, inflation-adjusted cocaine prices are a fifth of what they were 30 years ago, and any kid who wants to join the Mafia can sign up to deal it in his school. Addicts are harmed by the prohibition policy worst of all. It's time to stop shooting ourselves in the feet, and to control and regulate drugs through legalization."

StoptheDrugWar.org (still known to many of our readers as DRCNet, the Drug Reform Coordination Network), is an international organization working for an end to drug prohibition worldwide and for reform of drug policy and the criminal justice system in the US. POLICE STATE TYRANNY on KAUAI

Video of ITT security confronting and manhandling Kauai resident.

This is raw un-edited footage of an Attack by ITT and Pacific Missile Range Facility security on a videography teacher of youths in watersports activities outside the base property. Since Mr. Sato was video taping the youths body boarding for a show, he wanted lifestyle environment video footage for their library so he started to video tape the security personnel outside the PMRF base nearby.

This looked like another activity the Pacific Missile Range Facility uses to acquire more land outside the base property. Any activity by base personnel outside the base could have been conducted WITHIN the base property. By using public land it demonstrates their intention to take more land from the local citizens of Kauai.

The Video confirms Bob Sato's charges of assault and battery and terroristic threatening against an armed ITT security guard. Sato, the victim, was cited by police for disorderly conduct..

The video shows an easily identifiable ITT guard wrestling with and threatening Sato, followed by an apparent struggle for the spinning camera before the other eight ITT armed forces intervened.

Sato says the ITT personnel were there doing "target practice" by shooting into the ocean and demanded he leave. Sato says he told them he was working on his program filming water sports with children. Sato was apparently aware that there was a rifle range on the mauka side of the dune where kids were bodyboarding, but at first the guards only asked Sato to go and Sato asked a PMRF security uniformed officer why he had to leave a public beach. Suddenly an ITT security guard came over and threatened Sato to stop the taping he was doing.

"So what, you guys going to get shot" the guard said as Sato continued to tape. Then he attacked Sato.

Sato can be heard on the video to say "I'm going to leave" but, although the assault stopped momentarily, it then continued, camera spinning, obscenities flying the guard attempting to seize the camera.

As the assault continued the ITT guard threatened Sato who said "let go of my camera" repeatedly with the assailant saying "I'll throw it in the water... put that camera away or I'll broke um".

After the physical fracas was over the verbal one continued.

The PRMF officer can be heard asking Bob Sato to leave, which he was apparently doing although still taping. The officer kept stressing Sato was "just fighting the government" Sato stressed his "free speech" right to continue taping.

The ITT PMRF assailant kept threatening Sato and finally Sato said he would put the video on TV in response to a question from the assailant. The ITT security man made a final apparently terroristic threat against Sato.

"What- you threatening me?" he said. When Sato reiterated his right to tape on public property saying the assailant had already grabbed him by the neck with the camera, with a full frame video capture of his face the man said "Don't come up in my face cause I going grab you and it's going be broken"

Sato is a popular Kaua'i kids'-sports TV producer. Sato says he expects to play it on his regular program "Foundations of the Future For Youth" on Kaua'i public access Channel 52

Sato said after reporting the attack to Kaua'i Police Sato says he went home and kept calling KPD. So did ITT according to Sato's telephone conversations with the police. Finally when an officer did arrive to, what Sato thought, take his report he says he was "read my rights" and then, given a ticket for "disturbing the peace". The police officer, Sato says, would not listen to anything he had to say.
