Fifth grade students Xrystina Bicoy and Sierra Yasso PowerPoint presentation at the Kilohana School Science Fair was a "rehearsal" for their presentation to the Moanalua Gardens Foundation Awards. Under the guidance of Technology Teacher Allison Place, the students produced the Powerpoint of the scientific process of Hypothesis, Investigation, Evidence, Results -- followed as a whole school curriculum project. (photo by S.Peabody)

Last year, Kilohana School focused on study of the Moloka'i environment -- "Mauka to Makai." The theme "Mauka to Makai," was investigated, researched, results "published" by the students in kindergarten to sixth grade in a variety of media. Displays by each class included written journals, art projects, living (and not) examples of students' investigation included the results of erosion, the effects of wind, damage caused by feral pigs, deer and man from the mountains to the sea.

The east end, Mana'e students see the effects of wind, sun, rain, animals and man every day around them. By keeping a log from the results of a "weather station", the effects of alien species on land and sea, students formulated hypotheses, did investigations and went on field trips -- and put their results on paper (published).

The entire school was involved with the theme, guided and coordinated by teacher Shona Pineda and Moanalua Garden's Molokai environmental educator (for many years), Penny Martin. Auntie Penny visits Moloka'i schools with environmental and cultural information and was impressed with Kilohana's teaching staff's implementation of Malama 'Aina. She nominated Kilohana School (one of four schools) and Kilohana teacher Shona Pineda for a "Po'okela Award". The awards will be presented on Oahu.

Auntie Penny said, to the School, urging them to continue to "Do your homework," as George Helm said to the community 30 years ago. She also acknowledged the peer education with MHS Natural Resources Academy students.

"You're learning about your place, you too can make a difference in your school and community., she continued.

The visual presentation by Xrystina and Sierra summarized each class's research into various aspects of erosion, wind, water, animals, alien species, feral animals, pollution. Their "Mauka to Makai" findings: "Erosion is a bigger problem." Through the project, according to Xrystina and Sierra, the students learned that the need is to Plant more trees;... Clear stream beds (of debris), Clear fish ponds regularly and take better care of the land. The students of Kilohana continue lessons in environmental awareness and involvement in their community through science.

LEGISLATURE

Food Tax Credit Bill Passes House and Crosses to Senate

Honolulu, Hawaii. House Bill 707, which establishes a refundable food tax credit for families making $70,000 a year or less, passed the full House of Representatives and crossed over to the Senate on March 8, 2007. The bill was introduced by Representative Mele Carroll (D- Paia, Haiku, Keanae, Hana, Moloka'i, Kalaupapa, Lana'i, and Kaho'olawe).

"It's time to give back to the working people," said Representative Carroll. "This measure will allow for a food tax credit which residents can take advantage of when filing their taxes."

The bill would provide a sliding tax credit for the purchase of food based on a taxpayer's adjusted gross income. Dollar amounts have not been finalized, but those making less income would receive a greater tax credit. The purpose of the bill is to reduce the tax burden on Hawaii's taxpayers, particularly low-income working families. During the House Committee hearing on Finance, the Department of Taxation testified in support of this bill.

HB707 must now pass through the Senate for review.

Gun Rights Bills:

Testimony by George Peabody <http://www.MolokaiAdvertiserNews.com>

SUPPORT support SB1617 and SB702 gun rights

1. SB702 Status Report Title: Firearms; Ammunition Magazine Capacity

Description: Allows for the owner of a pistol to use any ammunition magazine with a capacity up to 15 rounds. Repeals the prohibition on magazines with a capacity in excess of ten rounds.

2. SB1617 Status Report Title: Civil Liability Description: Limits the civil liability of property owners to persons injured or killed on premises while committing a class A or B felony or certain violent crimes.

Should be effective immediately, poste haste!

MEDICAL MARIJUANA Bills:

S.B. 1296 Senate Committee (JDL) Sen. Clayton Hee

H.B. 1711 House Committee (JUD) Rep. Tommy Waters

SUPPORT THESE two bills that would reduce the penalty for possession of less than one ounce of marijuana are still awaiting hearings in the Hawaii Legislature. S.B. 1296 and H.B. 1711 would make possession of up to an ounce of marijuana a violation instead of a misdemeanor and would impose a small fine. Stop the loss of our freedoms and the growth of Lingle's Fascist Police State of Hawaii is getting worse.

Prosecute the IRS

Sufficient evidence has now been amassed to charge all IRS employees, but particularly its leadership and its accessories within the federal government, with multiple counts of the following federal offenses:

(1) commission of a felony by attempting and conspiring to obstruct, delay, and affect commerce and the movement of articles and commodities in commerce by means of extortion, specifically by obtaining property from the American People with Their consent induced by wrongful use of actual or threatened force, violence or fear, and under color of official right, all in violation of 18 U.S.C. 1951(a);

(2) commission of a felony by conspiring to engage in a pattern of racketeering activity, all in violation of 18 U.S.C. 1962(d).

See 18 U.S.C. 1961 et seq. for other pertinent RICO laws.

The federal RICO statutes also authorize treble (triple) damages to encourage American Citizens ["private attorneys general"] to prosecute legal action against the IRS to dissolve rackets:

The RICO statute and the Clayton Act bring to bear the pressure of "private attorneys general" on a serious national problem for which public prosecutorial resources are deemed inadequate and conflicted; the mechanism chosen to reach the objective in both the Clayton Act and RICO is the carrot of treble damages paid to Citizens who successfully prosecute against the IRS.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS COUNTY OF MAUI 200 REAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENT NOTICES

Real property assessments for the County of Maui for the 2007 tax year have been compiled and are on file in the County assessor's office located at the County of Maui Service Center, Suite A16, 70 E. Kaahumanu Avenue, Kahului, Maui, Hawaii or at the Mitchell Pauole Center, Kaunakakai, Molokai, Hawaii. Property owners may visit the assessor's office to review the assessment of their property and to confer with the assessor prior to finalization of the assessment list.

A "Notice of Property Assessment" showing the taxable value of the land and improvements, if any, the amount of exemption allowed on the property and the classification assigned to the property will be mailed to property owners on or before March 15, 2007. If you do not receive a notice within ten days of this date, you should inquire at the assessor's office.

If you do not agree with the value placed on your property, or if you were not given an exemption to which you feel you were entitled, or if you do not agree with the classification assigned to your property, you may file an appeal with the Board of Taxation Review or the Tax Appeal Court. The deadline for filing appeals is Monday, April 9, 2007. All appeals must be accompanied by a deposit of the appeal cost. The cost for each appeal to the Board of Taxation Review is $15.00; for an appeal to the Tax Appeal Court, the cost is 5% of the taxes in dispute but not more than $100.00 nor less than $5.00.

Wilma Likolehua Grambusch Honored

Children in all Moloka'i schools know her. Speech Language Pathologist serving and advocating for the children of the island, Wilma Likolehua Grambusch was honored on March 5th by the DOE and the community. Forty-two years of service was celebrated, by the Board of Education, the Governor and Lt. Governor, the State Senator Kalani English, HSTA and others were read as Mrs. Grambusch listened, commented on and felt appreciated. Music was provided by Manuwai Peters' Immersion Class students.

Teachers, School staff and principals from each of the schools Mrs. Grambusch taught at came to congratulate her on her retirement, wish her well and offered gifts and many lei.

Since she gets around in a wheel chair now, the Molokai DOE Liaison office gifted her with a special quilt of stars -- like the

Mrs. Grambusch was also presented with special thank you card from Henry Blount's mother, Margaret. Henry, who lives and works on the mainland said "Mrs. Gramby" made it possible for him to succeed in high school and college.

Among Mrs. Grambusch's family attending the party on March 5th, were daughter-in-law Nanette Napoleon-Grambusch and granddaughters Pihana and Waiapo.

Profound Solution To Stop Infringement: The Right to Petition for Redress

For decades, the US Congress, Executive law enforcement agencies and certain federal Courts have been cooperating in a collective decision to disarm all Americans except themselves.

Despite the exacting, and prohibitory language of the Second Amendment that specifically protects the individual's Right to Keep and Bear Arms, federal and Hawaii government officials embarked on a broad program of regulation, licensing, and police action to eviscerate the natural Right as it existed since long before the Constitution was adopted.

The Right to Keep and Bear arms is so crucial to the protection of Life and Liberty that any infringement of that Right must be viewed as a high-order threat to Life and Liberty.

When exercised individually, the Right provides for the security of one's person, family and property. When exercised collectively, the Right insures that the People always possess the means to free themselves from a despotic or tyrannical government.

There should be no doubt as to the true purpose of the Second Amendment, despite the platitudes of politicians who sermonize about public safety and the lengthy dicta of some federal judges who attempt to rewrite history and want us to believe that words do not mean what they say, and that we should passively defer to our political leaders for our protection.

The Right is not simply about the right to hunt ducks, deer, or shoot clay pigeons. The Right to Keep and Bear Arms is ultimately about the absolute Right of a free People to ensure that they always possess the collective capability to claim and exercise the Right of Revolution, if necessary, to secure Redress against constitutional torts and tyrannical government.

The Individual Right to defend one's life and Liberty is self-evident. The Right to throw off tyranny and despotism is merely an extension of the individual Right.

Government has never been and will never be beneficent. It's true nature, in fact, is evil. As Ronald Reagan once declared, "Government is the enemy of freedom." As government gains ground, Liberty loses ground. We should always love our country but never our Government. They are two different things.

This empirical truth was well recognized by our Founders, thus the Bill of Rights.

Time, however, is working against the People and the Bill of Rights.

For instance, with public education having all but replaced private education, with civic education receiving short shrift in our government controlled schools, and with the People pre-occupied with their families, careers, and income and property taxes, the Government has been working to disarm the People as it steps farther and farther outside the boundaries drawn around its power by the terms of the Constitution, taking possession of a boundless field of power.

Government's natural inclination is to control the People and diminish Liberty. If the Rights protected by the Second Amendment are inevitably lost, the Light of Liberty will dim and die.

The Profound Alternative To Violence

The Founders, hoping that their progeny might never again have to suffer a violent revolution, included in the Bill of Rights a guarantee of another natural Right – the Right of the People to hold their government accountable to the Constitution without ever needing to fire a shot.

Such was the brilliance of the Founders.

They included in the First Amendment a guarantee of the "capstone" Right of the People to Petition the Government for Redress of Grievances. The Petition Clause provides a peaceful way for the People to hold the Government accountable to the Constitution.

It provides that if the People have evidence that the Government is oppressing them by violating any of their natural Rights, the People may submit their grievances to the Government, along with their request for Redress. Accordingly, the Government is obligated to respond. If the Government however, fails to respond, the People may withdraw their allegiance and obedience from the Government.

Of course, the Founders knew that if the First Amendment did not work, the Second would. This is the genius of our Founders. It is the threat of violence reserved by the Second Amendment that forces our servant Government to peacefully submit to the First Amendment Right of Petition and the Sovereignty of the People. Failing to secure Redress through peaceful means, the People, via the Second Amendment, always possess the ability to utilize force to remove and replace abusive government.

Although rare, a number of federal judges are willing to recognize the true history, meaning, effect and significance of the individual Right guaranteed by the Second Amendment.

As recently as March 9, 2007 in the Parker Gun Control decision, a 2-1 decision, the United States Court of Appeals for the DC Circuit struck down the ten year old ban on handguns by the District of Columbia. Writing for the majority, Senior Circuit Judge Silberman wrote: "The right of self preservation, in turn, was understood as the right to defend oneself against attacks by lawless individuals, or, if absolutely necessary, to resist and throw off a tyrannical government." Parker, et al. v. District of Columbia, (Case No. 04-7041), (decided March 9, 2007).

In Parker, the District of Columbia claimed it had absolute power not only to license, but to outright ban all handguns. The Court of Appeals rejected the assertion. We recommend everyone read this important ruling, which reiterates the true nature and purpose of the Second Amendment.

The United States Supreme Court will undoubtedly agree to hear the appeal by the District of Columbia. Let us pray the Court will not dishonor the Second Amendment as it did the Right of Property in its ruling in the Kelo case and the Right to Worship as it did in the Lee case.

Overall, the attack on the Second Amendment has been systemic and sustained. Over many decades it has become an institutionalized effort by the Government to disable the People's ability to physically repel the growing abuses of federal power and encroachments upon Liberty.

As with most matters involving claims of federal power within the several states, the U.S. Government has crafted its legal framework for gun control around its limited interstate commerce authority. It is through this thin strand of legitimate constitutional authority that it seeks to unlawfully usurp the People's Rights under the Second Amendment, and effectively neuter the American People, to prevent the People from exercising of the Right that was ultimately considered necessary, in 1776, to throw off the monarchical and tyrannical government that had been in place in America for 150 years.

Make no doubt -- despite the potential longer-range implications of court decisions such as today's ruling by the D.C. Court of Appeals, the federal government -- made up as it is by people who suffer the same human frailties we all suffer from -- love of power and money -- will remain loathe to relinquish its false assertions that it has unlimited constitutional authority to regulate and control firearms within the fifty states.

Despite its clamor and claims, nothing could be further from the truth.

Fortunately, we, the People have the constitutional means to force the President and the Congress, without violence, to honor and defend the Constitution.

The Profound Capstone Right: The Right To Petition For Redress of Grievances

Here is how common sense and the Founders tell us, We, the People, to go about obtaining relief from the acts of our Government's officials that are repugnant to our Constitution:

First, upon being injured by the Government, the People are to draft and serve the Government with a written Petition for Redress of their Grievances. The People may rightfully Petition when Government has either abused its limited, delegated authority (such as when it applies the armed forces of the United States in hostilities overseas without a declaration of war), or when it has failed to perform a duty mandated by the Constitution (such as the current failure of the President to "faithfully execute" the immigration laws, as he is required to do by Article II, Section 3 of the Constitution).

Second, the Government is then required, as a servant and creation of the People, and by the legal nature of the Right of Petition, to respond to the Petition for Redress of Grievances.

Third, if the Government refuses to respond or to provide Redress as demanded in the Petition, the People possess the lawful authority to withdraw their allegiance and obedience from the Government until it provides Redress to the People.

In fact, we believe this Right of Petition is so powerful that the Department of Justice and the Internal Revenue Service are prohibited by the Constitution from enforcing the Internal Revenue laws against those rightfully claiming and exercising the Right of Petition.

ENFORCE THE BILL OF RIGHTS

Crimes of Politicians Must Be Stopped by The People (You are The Militia)

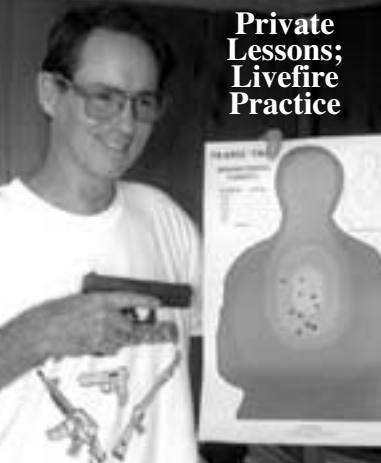

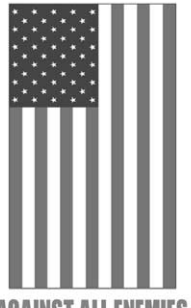

The crime on our streets is a tiny fraction of the crime in the offices of our politicians and bureaucrats - the massive majority of crime is committed by the criminal classes in power. Just look at the constant abuse of power in our State government offices and you will realize the extent of crime in Government. Just consider just how many BILLIONS of dollars a day Government extorts from the people and how little WE get in return; and just how comfortable the politicians make themselves at the expense of the peoples they extort!

The goal of the founders of America was to restrict government within severe limits and to protect the rights of sovereign individuals. Government has NO rights!

Judges are impeachable. Furthermore, judges may be removed immediately for violating oaths of office, involvement in conspiracies, extortion, and failing to uphold their duty to the common law. Judges can also be arrested, they are not exempt from this nor are any other officials, including the President of the United States.

Do the people have the power to do this? Yes, the people have the power to do everything to defend our country against all enemies foreign or domestic politician, and government has no power to say otherwise. Fascist bureaucrats might send out its armed marauders, but a huge group of The People (Militia) armed with guns as guaranteed their Right to keep and bear arms by the 2nd Amendment is likely to stop them unless the governments decide that it is time to begin mass killings of all people who believe in the rights of Man. Wake up!
