Case, Inouye, akaka Sell OUT to FASCISM Against Americans by Voting for the REAL I.D. ACT

Neal Abercrombie voted against it.

In May 2005, Congress passed the "Real ID" Act <http://snipurl.com/ngrg>, which requires states - starting in May 2008 -- to issue federally approved driver's licenses or identification (ID) cards to those who live and work in the U.S.

Real ID has not made many headlines. It was tacked onto the 2005 Emergency Supplemental Appropriations for Defense, the Global War on Terror and Tsunami Relief. There was no debate on, no hearings on, and no public comment. Just like the Patriot Act.

Unsurprising, but disappointing -- for hearings might have revealed that Real ID is going to create many headaches and nightmares for state governments, which must now labor under an unfunded mandate; U.S. citizens' privacy are seriously threatened.

What will the Real ID Act Require?

The Real ID Act's identity cards will be required not only if one wants to drive, but also if one seeks to visit a federal government building, collect Social Security, access a federal government service, or use the services of a private entity (such as a bank or an airline) that is required under federal law to verify customer identity.

In other words, it will be well nigh impossible to live without such an ID. That creates not only a huge incentive for citizens and residents to procure IDs, but also a huge incentive for states to comply with this unfunded mandate: If they didn't, their citizens and residents wouldn't be able to get access to any of the services or benefits listed above. Estimates of the cost of compliance range from $80 to $100 million - and states will have no choice but to pay.

In order to get a Real ID -- individuals will have to produce several types of documentation. These must prove their name, date of birth, Social Security number, their principal residence (verified by, for instance, a utility bill or lease), and that they are lawfully in the U.S.

Addresses cannot be P.O. boxes. That will predictably cause problems for persons who may fear for their personal safety -- including judges, police officers or domestic violence victims - or persons who simply may not have a permanent home, such as the homeless, who may be urgently in need of Medicare or other benefits. There needs to be a procedure to ensure these persons' safety and welfare; currently, the Real ID Act has none.

States will be responsible for verifying these documents. That means that, when it comes to birth certificates and other documents, they probably will have to make numerous, onerous confirming calls to state and municipal officials or companies to verify the documents authenticity. (Paperwork can easily be faked.) In addition, they will have to cross-check Social Security numbers, birthdates, and more against federal databases. Homeland Security is permitted to add additional requirements, like radio frequency identification (RFID) tags that emit radio frequency signals. Significantly, those signals would allow the government to track the movement of our cards and us.

Real IDs may make our identities less safe, as thieves increasingly have turned their attention to DMVs. Once databases are linked, access to the all-state database may turn out to be a bonanza for identity thieves. [Who voted for this fascist treason?]

TSA & Homeland Security Let Gang Members into Hawaii? Aliens with gang ties turn up in Isles

report by George Peabody

The 'Patriot Act' is designed to control and subjugate law-abiding American Citizens. Our borders are left wide open to millions of illegals - including any terrorists who want to walk in - and they are permitted to fly our airlines with no identification. As the lock-down of the civil liberties of American citizens escalates, the continual stream of reports of the fascism descending on our nation...fully and totally aided and abetted by the U.S. Congress. Government is the problem, not the solution.

Recently it was reported that federal investigators were able to carry materials needed to make a powerful homemade bomb to blow up an airplane through security screening at 21 airports. In all 21 airports tested, no machine, no swab, no screener anywhere stopped the bomb materials from getting through. Even when investigators deliberately triggered extra screening of bags, no one discovered the materials." [editor's note: Ah yes, but they confiscated a lot of nail scissors and cigarette lighters! TSA says this means we need tougher security restrictions at airports. Whoa! What is means is that there are no terrorists who want to blow up airplanes, or they would have done it!]

Lets look at what else IS getting through security while law abiding Citizens are harassed: illegal aliens turning up in Hawai'i who have ties to international street gangs linked to drug distribution, prostitution, drive-by shootings, alien smuggling and attacks on law-enforcement officers. During the past 12 months, nine aliens have been arrested in Hawai'i who have ties to various criminal gangs. Two of the nine men were Vietnamese nationals with ties to the Vietnamese "Black Crew" gang; four were Mexican and affiliated with the Surenos gang; two were from El Salvador with suspected ties to a gang called MS-13; and one was from South Korea and was believed to be affiliated with the Ciro gang.

U.S. Attorney Ed Kubo described MS-13 as a "particularly vicious" criminal organization spread out among more than 30 states, including Hawai'i. Six of the nine men with suspected gang ties were arrested on Maui and the other three on O'ahu.

Maui County Police Chief Thomas Phillips said "The migration of Mainland and foreign street gang members to Maui County and Hawai'i is a disturbing trend." Maybe Phillips is worried about protecting his "turf" from another criminal entity?

Feds said the men probably took domestic flights to Hawai'i and were able to enter the state without any immigration screening.

Aliens with gang ties turn up in Maui County??? So much for the draconian "Patriot Act" and "Homeland Security". More evidence that these laws, that violate every essence of our constitution and Bill of Rights, where/are designed to target and take down American citizens and nothing more! These folks must be good swimmers to get to Maui undetected...or they cruised through TSA while Tutu was stripsearched.

EXERCISE YOUR right to fly without ID: The 9th Circuit stated in its Gilmore decision that when traveling by domestic commercial air, citizens had a choice: they could either show ID or submit to additional screening. Ok, Everyone! Please try doing some or all of your air travel by declining to show ID and report back to The MAN about what happens to you. Email: molokaiMAN@flex.com

Molokai Channel Bottom Fishing CLOSED May/August

The Western Pacific Regional Fishery Management Council, which manages fisheries in federal waters of the U.S. Pacific islands (i.e., 3 to 200 miles from shore), voted last week March 16 to close the main Hawaiian Islands (MHI) to bottomfish fishing between May 1 and August 31 annually in an effort to end bottomfish overfishing. The Pacific Islands Regional Office of the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) had notified the Council of the overfishing situation on May 27, 2005. The Council is required, under the Magnuson-Stevens Conservation and Management Act, to take action to amend its bottomfish fishery management plan within one year of receiving notification that overfishing is occurring in the MHI.

The seasonal closure is expected to reduce fishing mortality of Hawaii's MHI bottomfish by up to 17 percent provided that the State of Hawaii adopts parallel seasonal regulations. According to the Council's Bottomfish Plan Team, which includes state and federal scientists, a 15 percent or greater reduction in bottomfish fishing mortality in the MHI is the appropriate level of reduction to end overfishing. Approximately 80 percent of MHI bottomfish grounds are found in State waters, i.e., 0 to 3 miles from shore, and the remaining are located in federal waters.

The seasonal closure was overwhelmingly the preferred alternative by hundreds of fishermen and other members of the public who commented on a variety of options presented to them during three series of public meetings conducted by the Council throughout the state in December 2005 and January and March 2006. Opposition to the seasonal closure was voiced by a few full-time commercial fishermen and the Maui Boat Club.

US Coast Guard Commander Bob Wilson said the seasonal closure would be easier to enforce than multiple area closures throughout the state. Wilson said he doesn't have the cutter or aircraft resources to patrol these areas.

Should the State not commit to adopting parallel seasonal regulations in writing by April 15, 2006, the Council voted to instead close federal waters around Middle and Penguin Banks. Located north of Kauai and west of Molokai, respectively, these banks represent the majority of the bottomfish grounds located in federal waters surrounding the MHI. Penguin Bank accounts for 60 percent of the commercial bottomfish landed by Oahu fishermen. The recreational catch is unknown, as recreational fishermen are not required to submit catch reports, but it is believed to be significant.

The Council will reconvene this morning to vote on fishing regulations for the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands and to address international pelagic fishing quotas and other management issues for offshore fisheries in the U.S. Pacific Islands.

The Selling of the "Nene House" : What are the Facts?

report by George Peabody

The MAN as been asked to report on why the beautifully designed and constructed "Nene House" at the Kanoa Fishpond in Kawela is being sold, and what about the Nene money. It is more than just a residence as the property's major feature is a reconstructed wetland bird habitat that is secured against cats and other predators to keep the Nene, Stilts, and rehab birds safe. The owners are expert and make a living as professionals in the field of wetland protection and shoreline restorations using Native flora. They have blazed the trail for other Molokai landowners, even residential homeowners, to follow obtaining small grants to create permanent bird habitat wetlands that are protected from further development by attachment to the land title, forever.

Coincidentally, Arleone Dibben-Young said that she had been asked questions by many people, and she agreed to reiterate to inform the intelligent and environmentally concerned readers of The MAN. mahalos.

Q. Your house is for sale and I've had a lot of people ask if nene money paid for it.

A. No money from the nonprofit (Nene O Molokai) went into building our home. This is verifiable, as every tax return from every nonprofit in the U.S. is available in scanned-pdf format on the Internet. Like most families, we saved our entire marriage to build our home.

Q. Did Nene O Molokai receive grant money to pay for your house?

A. No. However, as private landowners we received a grant from the USDA's Natural Resource Conservation Service's (NRCS) Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program, referred to as WHIP. WHIP funds are available to private landowners who take land out of agricultural use [fishponds included] and place it into wildlife habitat. For every dollar a private property owner spends towards an approved project the USDA/NRCS reimburses seventy-five cents. Although we received $6,909 for reimbursable expenses, we spent much more than that that was not reimbursable. There are several WHIP projects on Molokai. Ours involved excavating to expose the brackish water table to a depth of 6" to 12" to create habitat for the endangered Hawaiian stilt. The project was successful and we now have several that fly in and out of our created wetland, kind of like a 'snack-n-go'. I encourage other Molokai landowners to enhance or create endangered species habitat through the WHIP program.

Q. Where did the money from the sale of Mapulehu Glass House go?

A. Into the Nene O Molokai bank account, less escrow fees, and will be used to continue our outreach programs with hands-on activities for students and summer intern programs and for operating expenses. This summer's program will focus on the restoration of two wetlands in town, with 10 volunteers participating.

Q. What's going to happen to the nene when you sell your house?

A. We're looking into options.

Q. Why did you start the nene project?

A. We raised waterfowl on Maui for twenty years and did educational tours and essentially the same things we're doing now. When the State's Division of Forestry & Wildlife found out we were moving to Molokai THEY ASKED US to propagate and release nene on Molokai. Our 1994 agreement was called a Memorandum of Understanding, which was the precursor to what is now called the Safe Harbor Agreement, which is what was used for Puu O Hoku Ranch and for Haleakala Ranch on Maui. We didn't anticipate that being the first would cause scrutiny to this extent, but we hope that our efforts will open the doors for others who want to help save the nene.

"We have staked the whole of all our political institutions upon the capacity of mankind for self-government, upon the capacity of each and all of us to govern ourselves, to control ourselves, to sustain ourselves according to the Ten Commandments of God." —James Madison

Bill of Rights 2nd Amendment:

"A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

Wake up militia! Use it , or lose it ! Got your gun, yet?

"...with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, or fortunes and our sacred honor." (Decl. of Indep.)

If you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed, and, if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly, you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival. There may even be a worse case. You may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than live as slaves.

Bush signs renewal of Treasonous Patriot Act

After a long battle with Congress that went down to the wire, President Bush signed a renewal of the treason filled Patriot Act, one day before it would expire.

Then Bush let fly with a new round of lies and rationalities, saying the Patriot Act is vital to win the war on terror and protect Americans. He recalled the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11, 2001 without admitting his guilt as one of the terrorists: "We saw the terrorists' destructive vision for us when they killed nearly 3,000 men, women and children," Bush said.

The Patriot Act lets federal officials obtain "tangible items," such as business records, from libraries and bookstores, in connection with international terrorism investigations.

Other provisions clarify that foreign intelligence or counterintelligence officers should share information obtained as part of a criminal investigation with counterparts in domestic law enforcement agencies, not just about terrorists.

It imposes strict punishments on boat crew members who impede or mislead law enforcement officers trying to board their ships.

A "National Security Letter" is a subpoena for financial and electronic records that can be issued without consulting a judge, regardless of the 4th and 5th Amendments.

Our America, the Great Republic, is a dictatorship. We are slaves.

Dear Mr. President:

As a young man I was honored to serve our nation as a commissioned officer and helicopter pilot in the US Navy. Before me in WWII, my father defended the country spending two years in the Pacific aboard the USS Hornet (CV-14). We were patriots sworn "to protect and defend". Today I conclude that you have dishonored our service and the Constitution and principles of our oath. My dad was buried with full military honors so I cannot act for him. But for myself, I return enclosed the symbols of my years of service: the shoulder boards of my rank and my Naval Aviator's wings.

Until your administration, I believed it was inconceivable that the United States would ever initiate an aggressive and preemptive war against a country that posed no threat to us. Until your administration, I thought it was impossible for our nation to take hundreds of persons into custody without provable charges of any kind, and to "disappear" them into holes like Gitmo, Abu Ghraib and Bagram. Until your administration, in my wildest legal fantasy I could not imagine a US Attorney General seeking to justify torture or a President first stating his intent to veto an anti-torture law, and then adding a "signing statement" that he intends to ignore such law as he sees fit. I do not want these things done in my name.

As a citizen, a patriot, a parent and grandparent, a lawyer and law teacher I am left with such a feeling of loss and helplessness. I think of myself as a good American and I ask myself what can I do when I see the face of evil? Illegal and immoral war, torture and confinement for life without trial have never been part of our Constitutional tradition. But my vote has become meaningless because I live in a safe district drawn by your political party. My congressman is unresponsive to my concerns because his time is filled with lobbyists' largess. Protests are limited to your "free speech zones", out of sight of the parade. Even speaking openly is to risk being labeled un-American, pro-terrorist or anti-troops. And I am a disciplined pacifist, so any violent act is out of the question.

Nevertheless, to remain silent is to let you think I approve or support your actions. I do not. So, I am saddened to give up my wings and bars. They were hard won and my parents and wife were as proud as I was when I earned them over forty years ago. But I hate the torture and death you have caused more than I value their symbolism. Giving them up makes me cry for my beloved country. -- Joseph W. DuRocher

[editor's addition: March 19th will mark the third anniversary of a war that never should have happened -- a war based on lies that continues to devastate the lives of thousands, both in Iraq and the United States. Pssst: Bring the Troops Home NOW]

Crimes of Politicians Must Be Stopped by The People (You are The Militia)

The crime on our streets is a tiny fraction of the crime in the offices of our politicians and bureaucrats - the massive majority of crime is committed by the criminal classes in power. Just look at the constant abuse of power in our State government offices and you will realize the extent of crime in Government. Just consider just how many BILLIONS of dollars a day Government extorts from the people and how little WE get in return; and just how comfortable the politicians make themselves at the expense of the peoples they extort!

The goal of the founders of America was to restrict government within severe limits and to protect the rights of sovereign individuals. Government has NO rights!

Judges are impeachable. Furthermore, judges may be removed immediately for violating oaths of office, involvement in conspiracies, extortion, and failing to uphold their duty to the common law. Judges can also be arrested, they are not exempt from this nor are any other officials, including the President of the United States.

Do the people have the power to do this? Yes, the people have the power to do everything to defend our country against all enemies foreign or domestic politician, and government has no power to say otherwise. Fascist bureaucrats might send out its armed marauders, but a huge group of The People (Militia) armed with guns as guaranteed their Right to keep and bear arms by the 2nd Amendment is likely to stop them unless the governments decide that it is time to begin mass killings of all people who believe in the rights of Man. Wake up !
