Resurrection Sunday: Na Keiki Quick like an Easter Bunny at Annual Lions' Egg Hunt

Molokai na keiki made quick work of the 1,400 eggs "hidden" around the Kaunakakai Soccer Field last Saturday morning. Plain white eggs on Thursday were magically transformed by the Easter Bunny's helpers (Lions and Molokai High Leos). The colorful eggs were set out around the field Saturday morning.

By eight forty-five, entries for the the Easter Bonnet and Easter Egg Decorations contest were closed and the count down to the Egg Hunt began with Lioness Johnette Spencer keeping the eager crowd calm. Between 9am sharp and 9:15, eager keiki found all, including three golden eggs.

Golden Eggs were found by 3 year old Lanakila, 6 year old Jasmyn and 11 year old Leilani. Egg Decoration winners: 1-6 age group: (1st) Jasmyn Namaau, (2nd) Keaa Davis and (3rd) Luika Pelekane. 7-12 age group: (1st) Precious Quiniones; (2nd) Aliya Kaai (3rd) Kealoha Helm. Easter Bonnet: (1st) Jasmyn Namaau; (2nd) Champagne Kaai; (3rd) Nicole Makekau. Easter Basket: (1st) Cassidy Puaa; (2nd) Joy Kealoha (3rd) Crystal Nakihei

The Molokai Easter Egg Hunt chairperson Linda Mina was pleased at the turnout, despite the cool, windy weather and the rainy Good Friday.

[Resurrection Sunday is the day Christians celebrate that Jesus Christ rose from the grave, defeating death, and thereby proving that he is the Son of God on earth, for the specific purpose to suffer and die on the cross for the evils perpetrated by Mankind, thereby giving each person a choice to decide to accept Jesus Christ as our personal saviour, choose between good and evil, repent, and have everlasting life with God, or to continue the evil behavior that leads to more suffering and death.—MAN]

Young boy arrested for trying to take a glass of water to Terri Schiavo

Gabriel Keys is arrested by police officers in Pinellas Park, Florida, March 23, 2005. The young protester attempted to take a glass of water into the Woodside Hospice for the brain-damaged Terri Schiavo. A federal judge rejected a request from the parents of Schiavo to order her feeding tube reinserted to prolong her life.

Is arresting kids who try to save a life what our Tax Dollars is for? Is this display of Police State power the kind of government that our soldiers are dying for in Iraq? No, this is the POLICE STATE OF AMERICA in action.

40 years ago the Schindler family would have walked in that hospice and taken Terri home. This is all about showing America that the government "controls" everything now. Doesn't matter of it is about life or death. The government does not care about life, just power.

The jugs have denied appeals for stay in her execution in contrast to the stays of execution granted to convicted murderers enabling them to hang on for years if not forever. The judges have wrapped themselves in the cloak of their unrelenting dedication to the pursuit and administration of the law, and disrespect the rights of mother/father.

Eight people were arrested outside the hospice yesterday when they tried to bring Mrs Schiavo food and water: two 13-year-old twin girls and Joshua Heldreth, a 10-year-old boy from North Carolina, who said he just did not want Mrs Schiavo to die.

He said he was not afraid because he knew God was with him. When a police officer asked the boy if he would leave, he shook his head and said: "No." His father, Scott Heldreth, said: "He's a child of God and he does not understand why Terri Schiavo cannot have water."

Amid the pitched legal battle over Terri Schiavo that has been fought through his court, Pinellas County Circuit Judge George Greer has been under the protection of armed guards, and friends say his family also is protected. Death threats have been made against him for allowing Michael Schiavo to remove the feeding tube that has kept his 41-year-old wife alive. [Seems the judiciary of the government that has overthrown America from within, creating the POLICE STATE OF AMERICA, is getting nervous.] The "Unintended Consequences" of their actions are coming back at them.

Law agencies controlled by Florida Governor Jeb Bush, the brother of US President George Bush, were on their way to seize Terri Schiavo and have her feeding tube reinserted. But they backed off when local police said they would enforce a judge's ruling allowing the brain-damaged woman to die, The Miami Herald has revealed.

"We told them that unless they had the judge with them when they came, they were not going to get in," a source with the local police told the paper.

Her father Bob Schindler, who has been leading the legal battle to keep his daughter alive on life support, said: "Terri's weakening; she's down to her last hours."

Congress and the Bush administration could still save Terri Schiavo - if they would simply enforce legal subpoenas that were issued demanding that Congress be allowed to interview Terri and others regarding alleged domestic abuse. The subpoenas required Schiavo's doctors to maintain a key piece of evidence - the medical equipment keeping her alive "in its current and continuing state of operations."

Those Congressional subpoenas have been ignored by a Florida state judge and local authorities. Despite Congressional subpoenas hanging over the case, the Judge moved to put Terri Schiavo to death and ordered her feeding tube removed. But experts say they could still be enforced by federal marshals if the U.S. J.D. would enforce it.

Senate Majority Leader Bill Frist, R-Tenn., ominously reminded all parties that it is a federal crime for anyone to interfere with a person's testimony before Congress. (Allowing the chief witness, Terri Schiavo, to starve to death would, of course, be the most profound form of interference.) "No little judge sitting in a state district court in Florida is going to usurp the authority of Congress," DeLay said.

He continued: "More specifically the law protects a witness from anyone who - by threats, force, or by any threatening letter or communication - influences, obstructs, or impedes an inquiry or investigation by Congress. Anyone who violates this law is subject to criminal fines and imprisonment."

According to the rules, in order to be convicted of contempt of Congress, the congressional committee subject to the contempt first must report a resolution that the affected individual is guilty of contempt. This takes a majority vote of the committee. The full House or Senate then must approve the resolution, which sends the matter to a federal attorney, who may call a grand jury to decide whether to indict the affected individual, and prosecute - if the grand jury returns an indictment.

Some demonstrators say the Schiavo Case us already Adjudicated by higher authority. GOD has already judged the situation in Florida and those who had anything to do with depriving Terri Schiavo of food and water, or had the means to do good in this situation and did not do it Jesus said, "... Then He will also say to those on the left hand, 'Depart from Me, you cursed, into the everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels: for I was hungry and you gave Me no food; I was thirsty and you gave Me no drink; ... Then they also will answer Him, saying, 'Lord, when did we see You hungry or thirsty ... and did not minister to You?' Then He will answer them, saying, 'Assuredly, I say to you, inasmuch as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to Me.' And these will go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into eternal life." Matthew 25: 41,42, 45, 46. ... Therefore, to him who knows to do good and does not do it, to him it is sin. James 4: 17.
