Congratulations to Graduates 2011

MHS Class of 2011 Commencement

The Molokai High School Commencement Exercises were held on Saturday, May 21 in a festive decorated gym. Class president William Ka'oli Place led off the speakers, describing his class with fond memories as "the knuckle head kids" and the "kolohe" class of seventy-five graduates. Valedictorian Kawena Puihi gave a thoughtful farewell address to her fellow classmates thanking patient teachers, family and fellow students, ending with a quote, "We cannot direct the wind, but we can adjust the sails."

Salutatorian Chelsea Sakamoto told of the achievements in sports and academics by this class in State and Maui County championships as well as high-achieving academic honors. To her classmates, Chelsea who alluded to soccer said, "Play with your heart, the score doesn't matter."

First year MHS Principal Stan Hao has taken the reins of the school, made a creative entrance to his address and made a hit with his singing, "You've Got to Follow the Road" as they move forward with their lives, education and work. He emphasized, "I believe in you," as parents, families, friends believe in the new graduates.

Commencement speaker Glenn Kondo, who retired after 36 years teaching at MHS has taught thousands and generations of students at a school he was at first committed to for 6 years. He stayed, committed to teaching and the community of Molokai. He is credited with the Senior Project. A project students begin in their junior year and complete with a formal presentation before graduation. The Senior Project has now spread across the state to other high schools as a graduation requirement.

The not "kolohe kids" sang a chicken skin class choice "Mele Ohana" led by Jasmine Borden. Their faces shining with hope they face the future. The Class of 2011.

As Principal Stan Hao and DOE Liaison Allison Place declared them 2011 graduates and as they moved tassels from right to left, the balloon arch floated down and were popped by the graduates as they sailed out to their waiting friends and the world.

Congratulations to TAAC II students who completed the course: Suliana Aki, Anela Albino-Florendo, Jane "Claire" Cappelle, Lyvette Caspillo-Aalona, Larissa Gorospe, Kauluna'e Hamakua, Nicol Kealoha-Carmichael, Alanna Keko-Kalamau, Tina-Marie Matthews, Shannon "Malia" Nishihira, Barbara Rapanot, Maile Silva, Emily Valdez, Corena Wright.

TAAC Recognition Ceremony

The Recognition Ceremony was held at Kulana O'iwi Halau 5-24. Originated by the Molokai Rural Development Project and designed by MCC- Molokai, Therapeutic Activity Aide Certification Program completed its first ever program. The program was developed to meet the needs of rural communities and to create an entry level position to encourage future careers in HealthCare. Upon completion, students will be prepared to work as aides under the supervision of licensed professionals in the community.

The fourteen students who completed the two-year program went through 20 credit hours of college instruction in supervised activities in Occupational, Physical and Speech Therapy. The Pilot Program subjects and Instructors included: Interpersonal Communication (Dr. Richard Rodriguez, PhD); (Human Development (Nita Bogart, PhD); Therapeutic Activities (Susan Peabody, OTR) Therapeutic Activities Practicum (Frances Nishioka, OTR; Anatomy & Physiology (Kat Suzuki Reith); Physical Therapy Support (Kirsten Hirsch, PT); Physical Therapy Support Practicum (Mary Anne Hill, PT); Elaine Slavinsky (Medical Terminology); Speech Pathology Support (Janie Bryan, SLP); Speech Pathology Practicum (Jodie Diener, SP Practicum); Capstone (Arlene DeRouin, LCSW).

With the idea from Molokai Rural Health Association Wai Ola O Hina Project Director Jodie Diener, UH MCC-Molokai Education Center Coordinator Donna Haytko-Paoa and Dr. Caryl Hitchcock did the research, wrote up the program, got the program implemented in Spring 2010 for the community.

Although there is no specific job position for the Therapeutic Activity Aides, most are Certified Nurse Aides and are better informed and aware of a the variety of therapeutic approaches, especially for long term care patients.

Senate Votes Against Obama's Anti-gun Judicial Appointment: Goodwin Liu.

On Thursday, the U.S. Senate rejected Obama's anti-gun rights attorney Goodwin Liu for a seat on the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals. In a procedural motion that required 60 votes, Goodwin Liu's nomination was defeated in a near-party line vote of 52-43.

Liu was perhaps the most radical of Obama's judicial nominees. The UC Berkeley law professor supported the notion that the language of the Constitution is sufficiently ambiguous to bend with the times.

"It becomes pretty clear why 'originalism' and 'strict construction' don't make a lot of sense," Liu said in an interview promoting his book. "The Framers deliberately chose... broad words so they would be adaptable to new challenges over time."

In Liu's view, the right to keep and bear arms may have been necessary in the 18th century, but no longer needed.

For these reasons, the Senate was flooded with emails from gun owners insisting that Liu be voted down.

<<http://capwiz.com/gunowners/vote.xc/?votenum=74&chamber=S&congress=1121&voteid=47417511&state=US>>You can click here to see how your senator voted, and Hawaii senators Inouye and Akaka for YES as usual.

While Liu's defeat is a victory for Second Amendment supporters, it is also indicative that Obama is pursuing a course to pull the federal judiciary as far to the left as possible. Gun Owners of America will continue to expose the disdain with which Obama's nominees hold the Second Amendment.

Dear Editor: Justice for all?

When reading the crime and punishment section of my local newspaper (the business pages), I'm continually reminded of the gross inequities inherent in our criminal justice system.

Virtually every day there are reports of CEOs and directors of major corporations who are charged with fraud and tax evasion -- on a grand scale.

More often than not, those charged with such offenses end up making a settlement or plea agreement. Usually, those agreements result in fines and/or monetary settlement of lawsuits that don't even begin to compensate victims of the crimes. Moreover, having agreed to huge multi-million-dollar settlements, there is usually a denial that there was any wrongdoing. To add further insult to injury, few are ever incarcerated.

If you hold up a convenience store, and you're caught, you'll have the cuffs snapped on your wrists, get thrown into the slammer, and almost surely will do time. If you are one of those pillars of society, who unlawfully drains hundreds of millions from their companies and stockholders, cause job losses in the thousands and financially ruins many lives, you're more apt to first die from natural causes than you are to spend any time in prison.

There seems to be a dual standard of justice in this country when it comes to theft: one for the landed gentry, one for the 'common criminal'. Punishment should be meted out according to the gravity of the crime.

Big Bradda really is watching you in Honolulu

by Larry Geller

Cameras have been installed, one per lane, on the H-1 freeway. The system to which they are connected is capable of reading, recognizing, and storing the license plates of cars passing by.

According to this newspaper article, we are not supposed to be concerned about this surveillance:

"Rear license plate images will be taken, truncated, encrypted, and travel times between the camera locations will be calculated," the spokesman said.

For those concerned about privacy or "Big Brother watching," he said the cameras will detect only license plates, and the images will be deleted once calculations are completed: "No data will be stored, and the system will not be used to issue speeding citations."

http://www.staradvertiser.com/news/20110517_Cameras_trained_on_freeways_will_measure_the_flow_of_traffic.html> Cameras trained on freeways will measure the flow of traffic, 5/17/2011 Honolulu Star]

The system is supposed to help motorists plan their commutes. I wonder how many motorists requested that their license plates be snapped for that purpose? Or what rules permit the state to gather and record this data?

Allowing these cameras to operate normalizes and legitimizes the unwarranted surveillance of ordinary citizens. There is nothing saying that the state cannot or will not, at some point, use the license plate data for some purpose other than helping us commute.

Did Homeland Security have anything to do with this? Are there administrative rules permitting this kind of surveillance?

Inquiring minds want to know. Stay tuned.

The expectation of the bill of rights to use the roadway we pay taxes, and the pursuit of happiness which cannot happen in a police state. Think you have rights at all? Not when this espionage on your life is taking place.

When they start "Qualifying" the data, like only the rear plate, that is a clear sign of a lie being put forth.

Why don't we just trash the US Constitution. Oops, we're already doing it.

May 25, 2011. USA Breached the Debt Ceiling

While Barack Obama is chugging Guinness and Congress is doing... well not much of anything, we've breached the US debt ceiling.

That's correct, the US now has more debt than is legally permitted. We'd crossed the "more debt than is healthy" as well as the "more debt than is sane" levels long ago. However, it wasn't until the last few weeks that we cleared the legal debt limit.

You'd think that the world's largest economy (and home of the world's reserve currency) exceeding its debt limits would be big time news. But we've yet to hear a peep about it from the mainstream financial media.

It's even stranger that we haven't heard mention of the fact that the US is in fact RAIDING pension funds to continue to fund its debt.

That's correct, Tim Geithner, who aside from being a tax dodger has managed to make US Treasuries (formerly the ONLY risk-free investment in the world) so unattractive to foreign investors that he is now using money that was promised to retirees to fund his debt orgy.

Let's think about this for a moment... US Treasuries are so unattractive that investors no longer want to buy them... so we're using money promised to those who worked... to buy them. Simply staggering.

It really leaves me wondering when people are going to wake up and say to themselves, "Enough is enough!"

Point Shoot vs Sight Shooting

You don't effectively fight crime by chasing it, you fight crime by facing it on the spot. When seconds count, the police are just minutes away and you are victimized if unarmed or unwilling.

The ubiquitous armed citizen in America fights crime where it is fought best: at the scene of the crime.

This is accomplished by a combination of things: legal authority on scene within every citizen, a ubiquitous presence in fairly large numbers, a positive attitude of involvement and a duty to loved ones and community, and most of all, a willing spirit to remain independent of bureaucracies who cannot possibly take your place.

It is in this manner that law enforcement and armed citizen are allies, not foes, for the concept of the armed citizen is not so much that an armed citizen can come to the aid of a police officer - that is a good thing in its own right - but that armed citizens are the Sovereign in this country and operate effectively and legally in the absence of officers.

Police cannot be everywhere, but law enforcement was never charged with that duty to begin with. Law enforcement, through interdiction, science, gathering and processing of evidence, general muscle in enforcement of court orders and much more carries out the will of the Sovereign as a complement of the armed citizen.

It is known by professionals and civilian gun owner alike that the target of violence is the best first line of defense. When it comes to international small arms treaties and immense databases, we are witnessing an undermining of this equilibrium cooperation of law enforcement and armed citizen. This equilibrium works best, and, like all socialism, this current socialist political plan undermines it as a necessary step in ascendancy. The armed citizen gets in the way of that ascendancy. Hm. Did the Founders know this??

It is time for all non-gun owners to comprehend how these forces adversely affect us all, and primarily how gun control is at the root of what has given these forces their self-assured (self-absurd) confidence in their political successes all this time.

Remove gun control and you can begin to unwind the big bureaucracies which hound the non-gun owners as much as the rest of us.

Bill of Rights 2nd Amendment:
"A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

Wake up militia! Use it, or lose it! Got your gun, yet?

"...with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, or fortunes and our sacred honor."

(Unanimous Declaration of Independence)

If you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed, and, if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly, you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival. There may even be a worse case. You may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than live as slaves.

"And how we burned in the camps later, thinking: What would things have been like if every Security operative [insert your favorite alphabet Gang DEA, BATFE, H.S., TSA, FBI, IRS, NSA, CIA, LEOs etc. here], when he went out at night to make an arrest, had been uncertain whether he would return alive and had to say goodbye to his family? Or if, during periods of mass arrests, as for example in Leningrad, when they arrested a quarter of the entire city, people had not simply sat there in their lairs, paling in terror at every bang of the downstairs door and at every step on the staircase, but had understood they had nothing left to lose [neither do you now] and had boldly set up in the downstairs hall an ambush of half a dozen people with axes, hammers, pokers, or whatever else was at hand. The Organs would very quickly have suffered a shortage of officers and transports and, notwithstanding all of Stalin's thirst; the cursed machine would have ground to a halt!" -- The Gulag Archipelago, Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn

Gun Rights Refresher

1. An armed man is a citizen. An unarmed man is a subject.
2. A gun in the hand is better than a cop on the phone.
3. If guns cause crime, then pencils cause misspelled words.
4. "Free" men do not ask permission to bear arms.
5. If you don't know your rights you don't have any.
6. Those who trade liberty for security have neither.
7. What part of "shall not be infringed" do you not understand?
8. The Second Amendment is to enforce the other 9 Amendments.
9. 64,999,987 firearms owners killed no one yesterday.
10. Guns only have two enemies; rust and politicians.
11. Know guns, know peace, know safety.
12. No guns, no peace, no safety.
13. You don't shoot to kill; you shoot to stay alive.
14. 911 - government sponsored Dial-a-Prayer.
15. Assault is a behavior, not a gun device.
16. Criminals love gun control -- it makes their jobs safer.
17. If guns cause crime, then matches cause arson.
18. Only a government that is afraid of citizens prohibits guns.
19. You only have the rights you are willing to fight for.
20. Remove the people's right to bear arms, you create slaves.
21. The American Revolution was about gun control.

Crimes of Politicians Must Be Stopped by The People (You are The Militia)

The crime on our streets is a tiny fraction of the crime in the offices of our politicians and bureaucrats - the massive majority of crime is committed by the criminal classes in power. Just look at the constant abuse of power in our State government offices and you will realize the extent of crime in Government. Just consider just how many BILLIONS of dollars a day Government extorts from the people and how little WE get in return; and just how comfortable the politicians make themselves at the expense of the peoples they extort!

The goal of the founders of America was to restrict government within severe limits and to protect the rights of sovereign individuals. Government has NO rights!

Judges are impeachable. Furthermore, judges may be removed immediately for violating oaths of office, involvement in conspiracies, extortion, and failing to uphold their duty to the common law. Judges can also be arrested, they are not exempt from this nor are any other officials, including the President of the United States.

Do the people have the power to do this? Yes, the people have the power to do everything to defend our country against all enemies foreign or domestic politician, and government has no power to say otherwise. Fascist bureaucrats might send out its armed marauders, but a huge group of The People (Militia) armed with guns as guaranteed their Right to keep and bear arms by the 2nd Amendment is likely to stop them unless the governments decide that it is time to begin mass killings of all people who believe in the rights of Man.

Wake up! Enforce the Bill of Rights!

"A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed." Exercise the 2nd Amendment.

Obama's New BC Is A Computer-generated FRAUD.

That opinion has been repeated many times, and WND has reported on a few of the objections that have been raised by various experts:

Ivan Zatkovich, of Tampa-based eComp Consultants, analyzed the various layers in the PDF file released by the White House, and concluded: "The content clearly indicates that the document was knowingly and explicitly edited and modified before it was placed on the web."

"It is possible to take a single layer PDF and inadvertently create multiple layers, without changing the image in any fashion. But that does not appear to be the case here. The multiple layers in the PDF document are a result of changes made to the image," his report said.

Among the various items that were separated into different layers include the main text, the mother's occupation, the dates accepted for DOH recording, the stamp and signature of the state registrar and the time stamp of the state registrar.

Furthermore, the presence of "kerning" in the text confirms manipulation. The type on the birth document show evidence of "kerning," the squeezing of letters into a line so that they intrude into adjacent letter spaces. Kerning is routine since the advent of word processors and computers, but impossible with a typewriter in 1961. This document has been assembled by somebody on a computer.

Perhaps most significant unresolved issues that point to conspiracy and fraud is that two weeks before Obama finally released his "long-form birth certificate," Hawaii's former Health Department chief Chiyome Fukino – the one official who claimed to have examined Obama's original birth document – was interviewed by NBC News' national investigative correspondent Michael Isikoff, who reported that Fukino told him she had seen the original birth certificate and that it was "half typed and half handwritten."

However, the document released by the White House was entirely typed. Only the signatures and two dates at the very bottom were "handwritten." What Fukino described is apparently a different document from what Obama released to the public.

Among other questions that remain about the document:

The objectivity of "experts" cited by the mainstream media to verify the birth certificate is suspect, including that of Fox News Channel's Jean-Claude Tremblay, who assured America they "should not be suspicious" of the document, but who is also an unabashed Obama supporter.

Obama's posted birth certificate contains the same anomalies as a well-known forgery reportedly created by employees of the Hawaii DOH that claimed he was born in Kenya, suggesting the anomalous markings came from the same source. How could Obama's 'real' birth certificate share these unique characteristics with an obvious forgery? Joe Farah of WND commented: "For the life of me, I can't figure out an answer other than they were created by the same person or persons."

The birth certificate's reported delivering physician, Dr. David Sinclair, differs from previously published reports and even the myth-busting Snopes.com's original entry, which named Dr. Rodney T. West as the doctor of record.

Obama's purported birth certificate contains over a dozen differences in type styles and formatting from the verified, Hawaii copy of the birth certificate issued to the Nordyke twins, born the next day at the same reported hospital.

And, the local registrar listed in the Nordyke twins' birth certificate is different than the local registrar on the Obama birth certificate.

Though Obama was born before the Nordyke twins, and though his birth was filed with the registrar three days before the twins' birth, Obama's purported birth certificate has a higher registration number. Obviously the forgers of Obama's BC conspiring with Hawaii DOH and governor Neil Abernethy picked the wrong number to assign, maybe belongs to a dead infant from Wahiawa?

Remember, Obama's grandmother says she witnessed his birth in Kenya!

The age of Obama's father, as listed on the document, conflicts with previously discovered documents about Barack Obama Sr., so even that info is suspected in this obvious fraud.

There's only one way we're going to get the truth – a forensic document examiner is going to have to go look at the certificate and authenticate it. The real one – not a printout.

The Book that forced Obama's BC-Out!

Jerome Corsi's expose prompted Obama to release another fake "birth certificate" to try to stop accusations that he is not a qualified Natural Born American Citizen as required by the Constitution to hold the Office of POTUS. This book proves Obama is NOT eligible to be sitting in the White House. He's not qualified. He doesn't meet the test. And Obama himself has provided all the proof we need to draw that conclusion. Order book toll free: 1-800-496-3266

Obama Birth Certificate FRAUD by Hawaii DOH Complaint filed with FBI

The image released by Obama purporting to be a copy of his original long form Birth Certificate from the Hawaii DOH has been challenged by a number of experts in the field and declared a FRAUD, again, and the original, of course, has yet to be seen by investigators, much less analyzed.

"If you are going to be the president of the United States you have to be born in the United States – and there is doubt about Obama. If he wasn't born in this country, it's one of the most horrific fraud scams against We The People. Obama said on video that people who refuse to tell the truth are people with something to hide. So, why doesn't Obama release the records that show the truth about his birth and his citizenship and his adoption, educational financing, travel to Pakistan, Social Security number, and be TRANSPARENT and honest?"

Obama needs to publicly say that the document in the Hawaii DOH vault, the original long-form birth certificate, needs to be exposed and examined independently, show the doctor's records, the Kapiolani Hospital records of Ann Dunham to corroborate she was in that hospital, etc.

However, Obama's new BC proves Obama's ineligibility. Barack Obama Sr. is listed as the father, but he never was a U.S. citizen. And, the Founding Fathers who wrote the requirement for presidents to be a "natural born citizen" disqualified dual citizens at birth, such as Obama.

Obama Jr., now usurping the Office of President, even seems to hold that position, suggesting in a resolution he co-sponsored to address Sen. John McCain's status as a "natural born Citizen" that the status requires "American citizen" parents, i.e., both parents must be American Citizens.

Okay, if Obama released the original birth certificate, then he should have no problem asking the Hawaiian government to open up their vault and allow investigators to inspect the original, right? Why would he object now? That is the checkmate move. "Okay, Mr. President, you claim that what you released was the original birth certificate, however, there appears to be anomalies in it that evidence criminal fraud. Now, since you say that this is the original, surely you would not mind allowing the release of your real birth real birth certificate, right?" If he says, "no", then you know it wasn't the original. Game over. Obama goes to prison!

Also, it is shocking and incredible that no doctor, nurse or other person in Hawaii where Obama claims he was born, no one has come forward to recall the birth of such a now famous person. How strange is that?

There's something fishy about the whole thing of Obama's background, birth story and constant refusal to release a wide range of documents that would reveal information about his heritage and upbringing, information that public servants normally make public, especially elected officials. There is certainly a chance that he was not born in this country. Now if he was not born in this country, that means he can't be president. It's very simple.

TSA Agents Monitor School Prom ?

Talk about mission creep TSA in school Prom says judge

Here's how it works:

1. Security personnel abuse students (especially attractive female students) during searches.
2. Students and their families rightfully sue the bastards and the idiots who employ them
3. Judge orders the TSA to attend the next shake down to make sure it's conducted professionally and legally.

Voila! TSA do security for prom night.

That ought to teach them students and parents to complain about security abuses, huh? Next time they complain, I'm sure the judge will assign a TSA agent to the girls' bedrooms.

If you tired to make this stuff up, no one would ever believe you. Yes, it's insane. Yes, it's really happening in USA.

I'm not making this up.....SEE the VIDEO clip from New Mexico.

Obama's TSA vs TEXAS: We will shut down all your airports if you outlaw Patdowns and X-Rays !

Texas legislators made a valiant stand to outlaw the invasive patdowns that the Transportation Security Administration adopted to punish as a second option for people who didn't want to go through whole-body-imaging scanners (aka nude scans). Texas state representative David Simpon authored a bill that would make any patdown that involved touching private parts a misdemeanor that would mean a $4,000 fine and possible jail time for TSA officials who are just following orders like good Nazi soliders.

The bill passed in the House, but floundered in the Senate after the feds threatened to cancel all flights out of Texas if it passed. Texas U.S. attorney told senators in a letter that Texas didn't have the right to pass a statute that would conflict with federal law, per the U.S. Constitution. In this case of Texas Hold'em, the legislators weren't willing to call the feds bluff; they folded without any questions whether the TSA itself was un-Constitutional and violate Bill of Rights of passengers without probable cause.

After the threat from TSA, there weren't the votes to support it being voted on. The bill cannot be reintroduced this term.

Texas, though, isn't the only state voicing its opposition to pat-downs. TSA-opposing state politicians are banding together to create "United States for Travel Freedom" — a bipartisan caucus of legislators from nine states (Alaska, Hawaii, Michigan, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Texas and Washington).

"We urge the federal government to reconsider its policies," said caucus co-chair, state Rep. Sharon Cissna, D-Alaska, in a written statement. "Law-abiding citizens are experiencing severe emotional and physical harm every day in our airports in the name of 'security.' It's not only wrong; it threatens the core values that America and the constitution stand for."

We'll see where this goes from here. Wake up Hawaii: Hawaiians always have to fight for their rights against the feds & local crooks. Lets get rid of TSA, DEA, BATF, Homeland Security, FEMA, IRS, Obama's Czars, Attorneys, anti-Constitution judges, and the head of Racketeering Barack H. Obama !

REMOVING OBAMA BECAUSE HE DISREGARDS THE CONSTITUTION

The people elect a president to do a constitutional job. ... If the president is guilty of acts justifying impeachment, then he, not the Congress, will have overturned the election. He will have acted in ways that betray the purpose of his election. He will have acted not as a constitutional representative, but as a monarch, subversive of, or above, the law."

Rogan's "lost" argument is now published in his new book, Catching-Our-Flag-Behind-the-Scenes-of-a-Presidential-Impeachment-is a volume of his comments and detailed diary notes as a member of the 13 House managers who prosecuted President William J. Clinton's Impeachment trial before the Senate.

"In my prepared closing argument before the Senate, I had tried to summarize for my children and my grandchildren what the trial was about," Rogan told Hillsdale.

Many of Rogan's other arguments also reflect a parallel between what Clinton was accused of doing and what some will accuse Obama of doing, when Obama is finally demonstrated to be ineligible to Office of POTUS.

For example, Rogan had "jettisoned" the following prepared comments from what he actually said before the Senate:

"[The president's] defenders now plead for no constitutional accountability for the one American uniquely able to defend – or debase – our Constitution and the rule of law," Rogan wrote in his "lost" argument. "They seek to save him who cares only about saving himself. And they call for this remedy at the cost of weakening Jefferson's revolutionary pledge, made only a few paces from this spot almost two centuries ago, of 'equal and exact justice to all.'"

"The youth of my generation were moved by the words of another who reminded us that the rule of law must apply to all, or it would apply to none," Rogan had prepared to say in his "lost" argument. "Shortly before his tragic death, President John F. Kennedy echoed Jefferson's sentiment. He said, 'For one man to defy a law or court order he does not like is to invite others to do the same. This leads to a breakdown of all justice. Some societies respect the rule of force; America respect the rule of law.' His words are important, because President Kennedy, like Jefferson before him, recognized no exception for those who happened to share his party affiliation or political agenda."

"Should this issue be decided by reviewing the latest polling data?" Rogan had planned to ask, but didn't. "If your answer is 'no' to his question in the abstract, but you are inclined to vote for acquittal, take this self-test. Simply ask yourself if your vote on the Articles of Impeachment would be the same if the president stood at a 6-percent job approval rating instead of a 60-percent job approval rating. ... But if that difference governs – if polls matter more than the oath to uphold the law – then..." the rule of law is lost, freedom lost, USA lost.

Not all of Rogan's prepared remarks were jettisoned, however, as he carried much of his closing argument into the Senate, including comments that will be eerily poignant when Obama is proven to be a usurper and ineligible:

"The mere fact that a person is elected president does not give him the right to become president, no matter how overwhelming his vote margin," Rogan told the Senate. "Votes alone do not make a person president of the United States. There is a requirement that precedes obtaining the power and authority of obtaining the presidency. It is the oath of office. It is swearing to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution. It is accepting the obligation that the laws are to be faithfully executed.

"No oath, no presidency," he continued. "It is the oath of office, and not public opinion polls, that gives life and legitimacy to a presidency. This is true no matter how popular an elected president may be, or how broad his margin of victory." AMEN! Impeach Obama !

America is made up of 50 sovereign states – something largely forgotten in this age of seemingly all-powerful federal government. And what a great thing it is to see state after state actually standing up to the Obama racketeers and saying, in effect, "Don't tread on me!"

No fishing of moi during summer ? Is Molokai exempted Hawaiian-style regs?

In an effort to protect one of Hawaii's most significant fish species, the Department of Land and Natural Resources has closed the moi fishing season during the summer starting June 2011.

The department said in a release Wednesday state regulations make it unlawful to take, possess or sell any moi during June, July and August.

DLNR chair William Aila Jr. says moi at one time was reserved only for royalty. The early Hawaiians placed a kapu or prohibition on certain fish during their spawning season as a conservation measure.

During the open season of September through May the minimum size for moi is 11 inches, and the bag limit for possession or sale is 15. Commercial marine dealers may possess and sell more than 15 with receipts for sales.

If Molokai is exempted to allow Hawaiian-style conservation of moi, etc., is it ok to wipe out a whole spawning school of moi [700 lbs] if you give a lot away to neighbors before selling it to markets? What about reproduction? How about video records of such greed? Where are the reports, names, dates?
