Donald Rumsfeld: The Aspartame Drug Pusher

A good place to have started the War on Drugs all those years ago would have been to bring down the GD Searle Corp. and prosecute the Searle Corp.'s CEO, Donald Rumsfeld, for his blatant violations of the Constitution and his greed based disregard for the safety of the American people with his food additive called Aspartame.

It is a deadly neurotoxic drug masquerading as a harmless sugar substitute.

Rumsfeld was the point man who brought to your table the most toxic substance ever added to food--aspartame (commonly known as NutraSweet). Now that NutraSweet (and all its pseudonyms) has taken over the packaged food industry, it's time to take a look back at how these mutants made their way into our lives in the first place.

For years, Searle, the company that manufactures aspartame, tried in vain to get it approved. No one wanted to go near the stuff.

The FDA refused to approve it for 16 years.

In fact, according to the report I read, Dr. Adrian Gross, the FDA's own toxicologist, told Congress that "without a shadow of a doubt, aspartame can cause brain tumors and brain cancer and violated the Delaney Amendment, which forbids putting anything in food that is known to cause cancer."

But then, in the early '80s, Donald Rumsfeld made his move into the political arena, joining President Reagan's transition team. One of the first things he did was appoint a new FDA commissioner, Arthur Hull Hays. And in 1981, Hays approved aspartame for use in "dry goods"-despite the long history of controversy and negative findings.

Things have just continued on a downward spiral ever since: Before long, NutraSweet was everywhere, from soda to salad dressing.

92 reasons to avoid aspartame

According to Dr. Betty Martini, founder of Mission Possible International, an organization of medical professionals working to remove aspartame from foods, drinks, and medicines, aspartame has brought more complaints to the American Food and Drug Administration than any other additive and is responsible for 75 percent of such complaints to that agency. From 10,000 consumer complaints the FDA compiled a list of 92 symptoms, including death.

One of the major problems with aspartame is that it interacts with other chemical substances, including antidepressants, Coumadin, cardiac medications, hormones, insulin, vaccines, and many others. The stuff even interacts with other artificial sweeteners. Over the years, various reports have implicated aspartame in headaches, memory loss, seizures, vision loss, coma, and cancer. It also appears to worsen or mimic the symptoms of such conditions as fibromyalgia, MS, lupus, ADD, diabetes, Alzheimer's, chronic fatigue, and depression.

Action to take:

You, and especially your children and grandchildren, must avoid NutraSweet, aspartame, and any other artificial sweeteners for the dangerous toxins they are.

Check the label on everything you buy. If the label boasts that the product is "sugar free," that is a good thing, but the bad news is most of these products contain NutraSweet or Splenda-either of which is even worse than sugar.

Gasoline Prices High BECAUSE Obama/Fed Tax is 49.5¢ per gallon !

Now that millions of Americans are paying $5+ per gallon for gasoline, the political Class are making a big show of "investigating price gouging and speculation" that they say is negatively affecting society and economy. Guarantee, they know the REAL CAUSE is fifty cents FEDERAL TAXES on gasoline along with State taxes, and inflation-caused devaluation of the dollar, and that oil companies are not making "windfall profits".

Obama was grandstanding against speculators for driving up fuel prices. But, he forgot to mention that he campaigned on a green agenda under which he admitted energy costs would "necessarily skyrocket" because of new taxes and regs.

FACT: the biggest beneficiary of high gasoline prices is the Obama Regime aka the government, not speculators or oil companies, and Obama know it.

Obama knows the 50 cents fed/state taxes since January 2011 brings in $10 for every 20-gallon tank full. Exxon gets about 2 cents per gallon.

So, tell Obama to CUT THE TAXES on gasoline !

Fraudulent Hawaii Birth Certificates Long History Before Barack Obama. 1904 BIRTH CERTIFICATE

FRAUD BY HAWAII & U.S. FOR SUN YAT-SEN

You might think the Obama/DOH counterfeiting his 1961 birth certificate is the first time fraudulent Hawaiian records have been made official. WRONG! The United States may have a documents show that Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the founding father of the Republic of China, was born in Hawaii and had U.S. citizenship, but his birth in China's Guangdong Province in 1866 is an undisputable truth.

His Hawaiian birth certificate was an expedient measure taken when he was leading a revolution to overthrow the Ching Dynasty, admitted Shao Ming-huang, curator of the KMT Historical Archive, regarding a 1904 official U.S. immigration document. Sun was then a wanted man in China, and Chinese leaders supporting his revolution suggested that he obtain U.S. citizenship if he wanted to move freely to continue seeking financials in the United States for his revolution.

Sun's relatives in San Francisco helped Sun secure a fraudulent Hawaiian birth certificate and, subsequently, a U.S. citizenship based on that fraudulent document. [Just like Obama's fraud!] "This is of course an expedient measure adopted in the interest of the revolution. As such, it cannot change the fact that he was born in Tsui-heng Village," explain officials.

"He went to the United States quite often because a lot of people in the US supported his revolution," said Paskman. "He went there to raise funds. People helped him get US citizenship so that he could easily get to the US from China."

At the time, he was denied entry to other countries. So, in March 1904, the Hawaii government issued him a fraudulent birth certificate. The documents also show that Sun had once attended Oahu College, now called Punahou School, of which US President Barack Obama is an alumnus who used pakalolo etc.

The document, discovered in the US National Archives, will be on display at a special exhibition called "Dr. Sun Yat-sen and the United States" beginning on July 4th in Taipei, unless Barack Obama stops the document loan process.

Criminal Complaint Against Obama and Hawaii DOH: Birth Certificate FORGED

The 22-page criminal complaint filed with the FBI by document-imaging expert Doug Vogt charges that individuals within the Hawaii Department of Health, Obama political operatives and an unidentified graphic artist worked in a multi-state conspiracy to create a fraudulent long-form birth certificate for Barack Obama to create a false record of Obama's birth for political purposes.

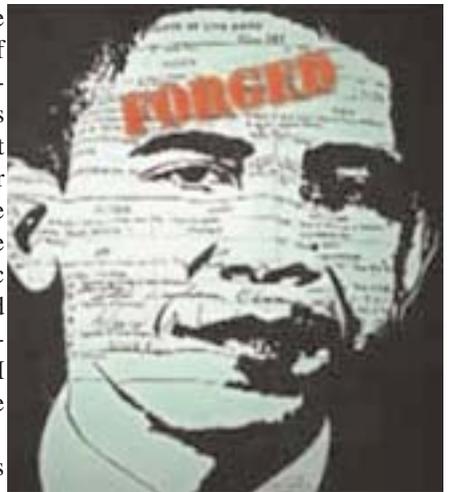

Vogt's complaints states "I have irrefutably proven that the Certificate of Live Birth that President Obama presented to the world on April 27, 2011 is a fraudulently created document put together using the Adobe Photoshop or Illustrator programs." He claims the long-form birth certificate the White House released April 27 as an electronic document in PDF format was forged from a composite of legitimate birth certificates obtained from the Hawaii DOH archives and manipulated to replace the original authentic information.

Vogt argues that a person or persons in the Hawaii DOH with access to the document-imaging program searched the database for someone close to the actual birth date of Obama and found someone born near Aug. 4, 1961, who died close to his date of birth. "The clerk may have cross-referenced the death database to find someone who had died and had a birth date close to Obama's."

Vogt speculated that someone may have taken the birth certificate number originally assigned an infant girl named Virginia Sunahara, born Aug. 4, 1961, at Wahiawa Hospital in Wahiawa, Oahu, Hawaii. Virginia Sunahara died Aug. 5, 1961, at Kapi'olani hospital.

Vogt speculated that a forger took Virginia Sunahara's birth number as Obama's, knowing that she was long dead and not available to complain about identity theft. Apparently more than one person was involved in the Hawaii DOH to find the right certificates to create Obama's fraudulent Certificate of Live Birth and finally someone who signed the fraudulent certificate.

"I believe that after all the components were assembled they were then given to a graphic artist to actually assemble the whole thing and create the finished forgery. That graphic artist could be located anywhere. In short this was a multi-state conspiracy to defraud the United States.", reported Vogt.

Friday is Kamehameha Day Celebrating the Annexation of all the Island kingdoms by Military force of arms

At the time of Kamehameha's birth, the Hawaiian islands were ruled by many leaders, with various alliances and loyalties. This factionalism inevitably led to conflict as rulers sought to expand influence and territorial claims.

By 1810, after much bloodshed and brutality and death, Kamehameha I "the Great" managed to emerge as the sole ruler of a subjugated Hawaiian kingdom. The Hawaiian Islands became united under one King, the population of each island annexed by Kamahmeha's military forces, only after many fierce and bloody battles, and through Kamehameha's cunning political and military alliances with foreign military.

In 1871, Kamehameha V decreed that June 11 be set aside to honor his grandfather and founder/unifier of the Hawaiian Kingdom, Kamehameha I. The first observance of this celebration was in 1872

June 11 is not Kamehameha's birthday. His exact birthdate is not known.

One of the most well-known traditions of the Kamehameha Day weekend is the draping of the statue of King Kamehameha on the grounds of Aliioli Hale, across from Iolani Palace. That will happen on Friday afternoon.

Parades are traditionally held Saturday morning, as well as a hoolaulea in Kaunakakai, Molokai.

Keiki surfers joined Waialua resident windsurfer George Peabody in the water as they practiced for the Keiki Surf Meet on Sat, Kamehameha Day.

Legislators' Illegal Laws ?

Why would a state legislature pass likely illegal laws?

by Larry Geller

Looking through some of the bills that made it out of Hawaii's state legislature made me wonder, "whose side are they on, anyway??"

Hawaii's legislature has passed many progressive, positive bills over the years, but there are also the usual bad eggs. The governor has a chance to veto those, but still, some get through.

How come?

Well, there are no consequences for passing illegal laws. When they get challenged and defeated in court, the lege simply passes a new bill to pay the legal fees, which can be considerable. They end up responsible for paying not only the state's own costs, which can include private big gun attorneys, but the state has to pay the plaintiffs' attorneys fees as well.

Do those expenses come out of legislator's salaries? Of course not. They stick us taxpayers with all the legal fees. That's right, we are made to pay for it, and it may be that there is little we can do about it. The Superferry comes to mind as a great example. Bypassing the law with new legislation ended up costing us taxpayers not only legal fees but everything the Lingle administration pumped into supporting that private business.

In these hard times, surely we have better use for this money.

It really leaves me wondering when people are going to wake up and say to themselves,

"Enough is enough!"

Legislature Approves Committee to investigate "Executive Agreements" between USA and Hawaiian Kingdom in 1983

After Queen Liliuokalani was deposed in 1893, two agreements were made between then US President Grover Cleveland and Liliuokalani, and the 2011 Legislature House is calling for an investigation of the validity of those two agreements and whether they are enforceable today, 118 years later.

HCR 107 introduced by Rep. Mele Carroll was approved to set up hearings to gather information about the two agreements, identified as the Liliuokalani Assignment issued January 17, 1893 that tells the US President to administer Hawaiian Kingdom law. The 2nd, Agreement of Restoration Dec. 1893, tells the US President to restore the Hawaiian Kingdom government with Liliuokalani as Queen as it was prior to the over throw.

Questions posed: Were the agreements valid then, and now? Do they preempt Hawaii state laws as official treaties [between USA and a deposed Queen?] And, what affect do these agreements have on real property titles?

Rep. Mele Carroll also introduced a race based initiative to establish so called Kanaka villages for the homeless population of Native Hawaiians, estimated at 40% of all homeless in the state, to be located on DHHL properties.

Simply, it would establish places where native Hawaiians can camp in tents or other approved shelters and subsist of the land by traditional Hawaiian methods of sustainability, without fear of harassment and eviction.

Bill of Rights 2nd Amendment:
“A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.”
Wake up militia! Use it , or lose it ! Got your gun, yet?

"...with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, or fortunes and our sacred honor."
 (Unanimous Declaration of Independence)

If you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed, and, if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly, you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a precarious chance of survival. There may even be a worse case. You may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than live as slaves.

Or if, during periods of mass arrests, as for example in Leningrad, when they arrested a quarter of the entire city, people had not simply sat there in their lairs, paling in terror at every bang of the downstairs door and at every step on the staircase, but had understood they had nothing left to lose [neither do you now] and had boldly set up in the downstairs hall an ambush of half a dozen people with axes, hammers, pokers, or whatever else was at hand. Obama/U.N. Global Arms TREATY ?!!

A legally binding, global Arms Trade Treaty is being prepared in the back rooms of the UN. One goal of the Treaty's proponents is to create national weapon databases, leading to regional databases, and then to an eventual global database.

What will the database contain and track? Countries will be charged with the duty to keep track, not only of all transfers, but also of the locations of all arms and ammunition, from manufacture to destruction.

Small arms must be marked on at least three - and in many cases - six parts: the frame, barrel, firing pin, ejector, extractor and magazine. And some firearm-prohibitionist groups suggest that the slide should be marked, as well. As each weapon - or each part - crosses a national border, an additional marking would need to be added. "Secondary markings" will add another layer of complexity.

Bear in mind that none of this will impact criminals who ignore the "law". "Even in relatively developed countries, the present condition of weapon databases is a nightmare," Gallant says, citing significant error rates in Canada, Australia and the United States. Indeed, as Gun Rights Examiner reported in the Friesen case, the National Firearms Registration and Transfer Record maintained by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) to keep track of Title II weapons, "is insufficient for criminal proceedings" according to leading criminologist Dr. Fritz Scheuren in testimony before the 10th District Court.

The abbreviation "GIGO" comes to mind: Garbage In, Garbage Out. Which may be why an ATF manager claimed they routinely commit perjury over database accuracy.

While passage of an anti-gun global treaty by the Constitutionally-required congressional supermajority seems politically unfeasible at the present, an Obama victory in 2012, where he does not need to worry about reelection, could significantly amplify the threat.

Wake up Hawaii !! Our country is edging closer to the oppression and enslavement against which our Founding Fathers shed their blood in the Revolution against King of England's Monarch government, then created the Constitution for the United States of America the Supreme Law of the Land to ensure the blessings of liberty and freedoms and government in republican form [self government] for all Americans reigns in perpetuity.

Gun control to any degree is the immoral equivalent of destroying the body's immune system and then expecting the patient to trust officials further.

Obama said he would change America—and he has—he's made it worse, much worse. His actions and those of his cronies in Congress have nullified the Constitution for the United States of America the Supreme Law of the Land, and buried America in a debt so large that he's eclipsed George Bush's deficit spending by a whole order of magnitude. This all happened after his campaign promise to cut the deficit in half by the end of his first term. But then we know about broken campaign promises. They don't count so much. But how about blatant violations of the law? Don't those count?

When is America going to revolt over Obama's lies and treason?

Gun Rights Refresher

1. An armed man is a citizen. An unarmed man is a subject.
2. A gun in the hand is better than a cop on the phone.
3. If guns cause crime, then pencils cause misspelled words.
4. "Free" men do not ask permission to bear arms.
5. If you don't know your rights you don't have any.
6. Those who trade liberty for security have neither.
7. What part of "shall not be infringed" do you not understand?
8. The Second Amendment is to enforce the other 9 Amendments.
9. 64,999,987 firearms owners killed no one yesterday.
10. Guns only have two enemies; rust and politicians.
11. Know guns, know peace, know safety.
12. No guns, no peace, no safety.
13. You don't shoot to kill; you shoot to stay alive.
14. 911 - government sponsored Dial-a-Prayer.
15. Assault is a behavior, not a gun device.
16. Criminals love gun control -- it makes their jobs safer.
17. If guns cause crime, then matches cause arson.
18. Only a government that is afraid of citizens prohibits guns.
19. You only have the rights you are willing to fight for.
20. Remove the people's right to bear arms, you create slaves.
21. The American Revolution was about gun control.

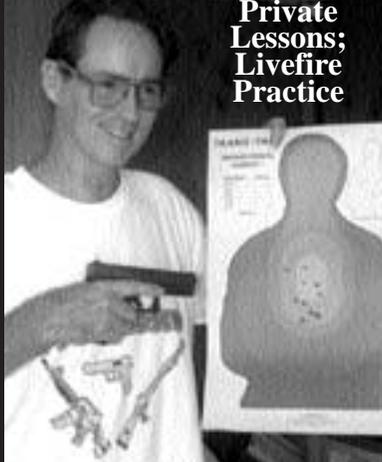

Crimes of Politicians Must Be Stopped by The People (You are The Militia)

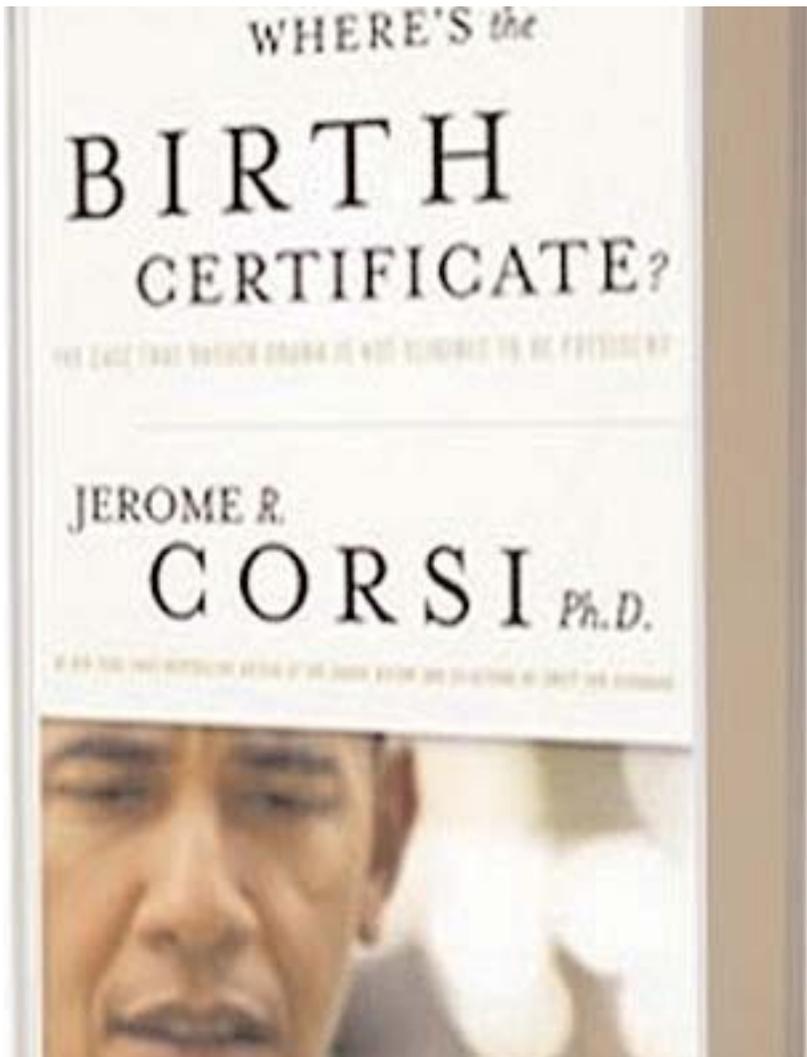

The crime on our streets is a tiny fraction of the crime in the offices of our politicians and bureaucrats - the massive majority of crime is committed by the criminal classes in power. Just look at the constant abuse of power in our State government offices and you will realize the extent of crime in Government. Just consider just how many BILLIONS of dollars a day Government extorts from the people and how little WE get in return; and just how comfortable the politicians make themselves at the expense of the peoples they extort!

The goal of the founders of America was to restrict government within severe limits and to protect the rights of sovereign individuals. Government has NO rights! Judges are impeachable. Furthermore, judges may be removed immediately for violating oaths of office, involvement in conspiracies, extortion, and failing to uphold their duty to the common law. Judges can also be arrested, they are not exempt from this nor are any other officials, including the President of the United States.

Do the people have the power to do this? Yes, the people have the power to do everything to defend our country against all enemies foreign or domestic politician, and government has no power to say otherwise. Fascist bureaucrats might send out its armed marauders, but a huge group of The People (Militia) armed with guns as guaranteed their Right to keep and bear arms by the 2nd Amendment is likely to stop them unless the governments decide that it is time to begin mass killings of all people who believe in the rights of Man.

Wake up ! Enforce the Bill of Rights !

Garden Recipe: Law of Minimum

by Glenn I. Teves, County Extension Agent, UH College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources

A basic law in farming states that it only takes one missing element to limit the growth of plants even if all other elements are in abundance. Called the Law of the Minimum, plants will only grow to the potential of the most limiting element. There are over 17 essential elements vital to plant growth, and each one must be available in the proper amount in relation to plant needs. Many of these elements can be found in our soil and available to the plant, while others must be added for optimal plant growth.

We have over 140 soil types in Hawaii, more than any place in the world, and each soil is a little different, from the sandy coastal soils to the young lava soils of Maunakea. The composition of our soil is based on age, rainfall, soil particle size, and parent material. Annual rainfall statewide can range from a few inches to over 400 inches, and older, more eroded soils and those in high rainfall areas are usually more weathered, and lack certain nutrients, including Potassium, Calcium, and Magnesium. Hoolehua soil is highly weathered, so Calcium and Magnesium are in short supply and must be added, but there's usually adequate Potassium, the last number on the fertilizer bag, because the soil has lots of it.

Phosphorus, the middle number on the fertilizer bag, is another limiting nutrient and is why many use 10-30-10 as a pre-plant fertilizer. The availability of phosphorus can also be affected by soil pH, the level of acidity or alkalinity of a soil. The soil pH should range from 5.5 to 6.5 for most crops. If the pH is too low or acidic, phosphorus will be locked up in the soil structure and is not available to the plant. Also, compounds such as Aluminum and Manganese are at toxic levels in low pH soil, and can kill plant roots. However, a few plants prefer acid soils, including sweetpotato, gardenia, azalea, camellia, and tea. The red color of the Hoolehua soil is due to high iron, but is in a form that's not available to plants.

In areas of very low rainfall, such as Kalamaula, the soil is rich and probably needs little in the way of additional nutrients. In all soils, we usually assume nitrogen is lacking and should always be added. Horse, pig, poultry and cattle manure are good sources of nitrogen fertilizer, but should be aged and not fresh. Old-time farmers use to make manure teas, manure mixed with water, and fed plants small amounts at each watering to grow beautiful crops of lettuce and other leafy vegetables, for example. If your soil is low in certain nutrients, the veggies you eat from that ground will also be low in those same nutrients.

Growers need to know what's missing in their soil, and one way is by collecting a soil sample. To take a soil sample, take handfuls of soil from a depth of 2-4 inches from many spots on your lot or garden and mix it together in a bucket. Remove about two cups and put it in a sturdy plastic bag. Bring it to our office between 8:30 am and 3:30 pm, Monday through Friday, and be sure to fill out soil sample forms. There's a $12 fee for each sample and a check is preferred. We're located next to the Hoolehua Post Office. With the high cost of fertilizer, it pays dividends to know exactly what's missing in your soil and how to correct.

Gardening without a soil sample is like baking a cake without a recipe.

The Book that forced Obama's BC-Out!

Jerome Corsi's expose prompted Obama to release another fake "birth certificate" to try to stop accusations that he is not a qualified Natural Born American Citizen as required by the Constitution to hold the Office of POTUS. This book proves Obama is NOT eligible to be sitting in the White House. He's not qualified. He doesn't meet the test. And Obama himself has provided all the proof we need to draw that conclusion. Obama Birth Certificate FRAUD by Hawaii DOH Complaint filed with FBI

The image released by Obama purporting to be a copy of his original long form Birth Certificate from the Hawaii DOH has been challenged by a number of experts in the field and declared a FRAUD, again, and the original, of course, has yet to be seen by investigators, much less analyzed.

"If you are going to be the president of the United States you have to be born in the United States – and there is doubt about Obama. If he wasn't born in this country, it's one of the most horrific fraud scams against We The People. Obama said on video that people who refuse to tell the truth are people with something to hide. So, why doesn't Obama release the records that show the truth about his birth and his citizenship and his adoption, educational financing, travel to Pakistan, Social Security number, and be TRANSPARENT and honest?"

Obama needs to publicly say that the document in the Hawaii DOH vault, the original long-form birth certificate, needs to be exposed and examined independently, show the doctor's records, the Kapiolani Hospital records of Ann Dunham to corroborate she was in that hospital, etc.

However, Obama's new BC proves Obama's ineligibility. Barack Obama Sr. is listed as the father, but he never was a U.S. citizen. And, the Founding Fathers who wrote the requirement for presidents to be a "natural born citizen" disqualified dual citizens at birth, such as Obama.

Obama Jr., now usurping the Office of President, even seems to hold that position, suggesting in a resolution he co-sponsored to address Sen. John McCain's status as a "natural born Citizen" that the status requires "American citizen" parents, i.e., both parents must be American Citizens.

Okay, if Obama released the original birth certificate, then he should have no problem asking the Hawaiian government to open up their vault and allow investigators to inspect the original, right? Why would he object now? That is the checkmate move. "Okay, Mr. President, you claim that what you released was the original birth certificate, however, there appears to be anomalies in it that evidence criminal fraud. Now, since you say that this is the original, surely you would not mind allowing the release of your real birth real birth certificate, right?" If he says, "no", then you know it wasn't the original. Game over. Obama goes to prison!

Also, it is shocking and incredible that no doctor, nurse or other person in Hawaii where Obama claims he was born, no one has come forward to recall the birth of such a now famous person. How strange is that?

There's something fishy about the whole thing of Obama's background, birth story and constant refusal to release a wide range of documents that would reveal information about his heritage and upbringing, information that public servants normally make public, especially elected officials. There is certainly a chance that he was not born Hawaii or anyplace in U.S.A. Now if he was not born in this country, that means he can't be president. It's very simple. Read the book!

Neighbor islands getting money for job training

Hawaii's senators say $4.3 million is being appropriated to the University of Hawaii for job training and educational opportunities on the Big Island, Kauai, Lanai, Maui and Molokai.

U.S. Sens. Daniel Inouye and Daniel Akaka said the funding was obtained through an earmark in last fiscal year's federal budget recently released by the U.S. Department of Labor.

The University of Hawaii-Maui College oversees the program, which started 14 years ago.

It offers training in disciplines including health care, culinary arts, food service, veterinary care, automotive repair and procurement.

Inouye said the funding will help rural areas of the state that were hit hardest by the global recession.

He said they'll gain skills and training needed to enter the workforce.

The Honolulu City Council, has approved an array of new and higher fees for city facilities and services, because that way they think they can fool people that they are not raising taxes. FOOL YOU ?

The fee increase that will affect the most residents was on sewer fees, which are tied to water use. The city said the increase was necessary to upgrade the city's century-old sewer system and meet the requirements of federal law being enforced by a court order negotiated with environmental groups. The city said the increase will raise sewer bills for a typical homeowner from about $95 per month Friday to about $160 per month in 2016, a 68 percent increase.

Most of the fees, including an increase in the cost for a new, renewed or duplicate driver's license, a new fee for camping of about $1 per person per day, and higher costs for zoo admission, use of city recreational facilities city employee parking and even a higher tax rate for residential property, passed without much discussion.

The longest and most bitter debate of the day was over a bill that would restore a discount to Schnitzer Steel for the waste byproducts from recycled vehicles that have to be dumped at the landfill. The company enjoyed an 80 percent discount in recent years. The bill before the council Friday would set the discount at 50 percent, and reduce it to 20 percent by 2013. Council members passed it.

Social Security Checks NOT in the Mail

People who sign up for Social Security benefits after end of May, 2011, will not receive their checks by mail like us old timers do now. Instead, they can opt for direct deposit into a bank account or receive a prepaid Debit MasterCard with the amount of their benefit loaded onto the card.

Old geezers who already receive paper checks are going to have to change too if they live long enough past March 2013. They must also switch to direct deposit or prepaid debit card option.

Social Security officials say people can get cash when needed off their debit card by going to a bank teller or getting cash back when purchasing something using the debit card.

This scheme will lead America further away from the Constitutional sound money mandated as coins in gold and silver.

Population Limits Needed ! Is the Tide of Illegal Immigration Turning?

While the battle is far from over, this decision should encourage all of us that local governments do have the right to provide for the well being of the folks who live in communities and cities across the nation from the multitude of problems created by the massive influx of illegal aliens. Its the SOCIALISM WELFARE.

Too much growth in population is not sustainable, its a death sentence, just like having too many deer or horses causes famine and ecosystem collapse.

DISASTER ON INDIAN LANDS

There are 530 American Indian tribes in the contiguous states that control 56 million acres, writes Rod McQueary in RANGE. The tragedy is that most western reservations are overflowing with abandoned and feral horses and, left unchecked, excess horses will eat the white sage in Nevada, prairie grasses in Wyoming, and high-desert forage in Arizona. They will starve out the deer, elk, antelope, and sage grouse in Washington. They will destroy salmon habitat and sacred ceremonial plants, all before they destroy themselves.

It is a man-made disaster that has hit the tribes hard. A few feral horse counts in early 2011 indicate: Yakama Tribe, northern Washington, 16,000 head; Warm Springs tribe, central Oregon, 6,000 head; Navajo Nation, Arizona, 60,000 to 75,000 head; and Shoshone-Bannock, Idaho, 500 to 600 head. There are dozens more reservations and how many horses on them is anybody's guess, according to McQueary.

The author predicts, "The day is not far away when the tribes who care about their land, their sacred plants, their wildlife, and their livelihood will have to not only contemplate, but also implement drastic measures to eliminate thousands and thousands of feral horses to protect the ecological balance of native land."

Hawaii Medicare and Medicaid SCAMS Who are the ghosts and inelibles?

DHS: Thousands of ghost names on Hawaii Medicare, Medicaid Rolls

by Andrew Walden

Hawaii Department of Human Services Med-Quest Administrator, Dr. Kenneth S. Fink and DHS Director Patricia McManaman, panelists were asked about the Abercrombie administration's proposed new requirement for annual "Administrative Renewal" of Medicare and Medicaid patients.

Currently renewal is "passive." Every year, Medicare and Medicaid patients are mailed a form at their last known address. If there are no changes, no action is required. Those who do not respond to the mailer are kept on the rolls.

The questions came repeatedly from community clinics and focused on the details of whether the clinics themselves would be allowed to carry out the renewals, or whether patients would have to handle renewal independently.

The reason for the intense interest in this seemingly petty issue did not emerge until nearly the end of the 90 minute discussion. Asked one time too many, an exasperated Dr. Fink finally spilled the beans:

"To my knowledge we are the only state in the the country that has passive renewal as its shaped in which we don't require anything from our patients. So we don't know if someone has moved out of state or died—or carefully reviewed their information and made a conscious decision that nothing has changed and chosen to not return the form. By not receiving any documentation--this is actually an error under another federal program.... So we are working to become complaint with the ... program and insure the integrity.

"Where we are required to do sampling and have found that of those in our sample who can be identified, roughly 7% to 10% of them are not eligible. In an additional large number of cases, we are unable to receive information to make a determination. So it could be much greater."

According to Dr. Fink, Hawaii has 271,000 Medicare and Medicaid beneficiaries. Ten percent is 27,100 ineligible. Dr. Fink did not estimate a percentage for "an additional large number of cases." Could the total of fakes and ineligibles exceed 100,000? That would require only 27% of the sample be ghost names on top of the 10% ineligible.

DHS Director Patricia McManaman seconded the point: "...We have a choice. Do we continue to fund people who have moved out of state or are no longer eligible because they're receiving healthcare insurance for their children now through their employer. People whose income is far above the 300% of federal poverty guideline. Do we continue to fund those families who no longer need MedQuest services at the expense of individuals who do need it?"

Many doctors statewide refuse to take on Medicaid Patients. One of them, Dr. Linda Rasmussen, an orthopedic surgeon from Kailua, spoke up at the forum:

"Is there any effort to speed up or at least timely reimburse the providers because we have a small orthopedic group and get a lot of patients from one mental health center and from other places and the problem is the reimbursement is slow but then the number of staff I have to hire to fight for that reimbursement and the delays in payment make one want to pull out their hair. I mean its almost easier to take care of them for free and be rid of all that. So is there any effort in that area?" Rasmussen was immediately followed by another Oahu MD, Dr. Kemble: "As far as I can see a large part of the problem with access to care, particularly outpatient care in the private sector is as a result of inappropriate application of managed care policies by the Medicare and Medicaid managed care Plans. Which has had the effect of imposing very burdensome, senseless and unreasonable policies on providers, has driven them out of taking Medicaid patients. Even if they sign a participating agreement, they won't take any new patients because they've had so much trouble with managed care problems. Until you do something about that you will not solve the access to care problem. You will not be able to reduce ER visits and you won't be able to implement medical homes, coordination of care and medical record incentives because you won't have the provider participation that makes all those things possible. You have to do something about the managed care problem."

These types of concerns were expressed by several private-practice MDs—but not a single clinic worker or doctor asked about slow reimbursements or low reimbursements. Instead they all focused intently on wheedling permission to fill out the "Administrative Renewal" forms on behalf of their patients.

It is not difficult to see what is going on here. A substantial portion of Hawaii's 271,000 Medicaid and Medicare patients are ghost beneficiaries, on the list solely to help clinics pad their books. This explains how the clinics seek out patients that other doctors shun.

But now the rules are changing and the devil is in the details. If clinics are allowed to fill out the annual renewal forms on behalf of these ghost patients, they will continue to rake in the bucks. If they aren't, and the patient is required to do it on their own, the clinics will suddenly see a "large number of cases" simply vanish into thin air because they do not exist.

Governor Abercrombie announced his desire to stop "extending life" for the ghost patients. [You got that right Gov! Now expose Obama fraud at DOH!]

Three Unanswered Questions:

Was Barack Obama Born in Kenya?

Is He Really a Citizen of Indonesia?

Does the Constitution still Matter?

We the People

OBAMA IS A USURPER!

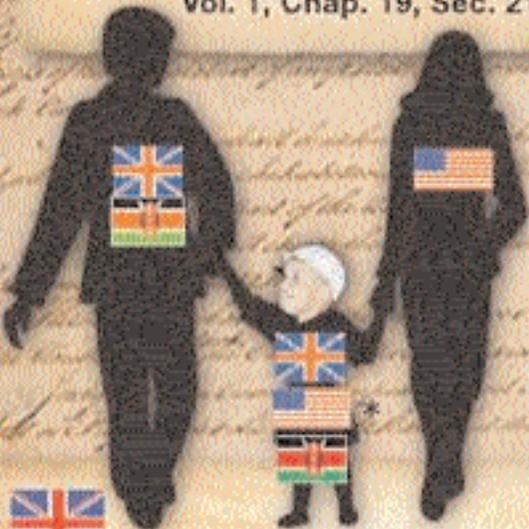

U.S. Constitution, Article II, Section 1, Clause 5 . . .

No person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.

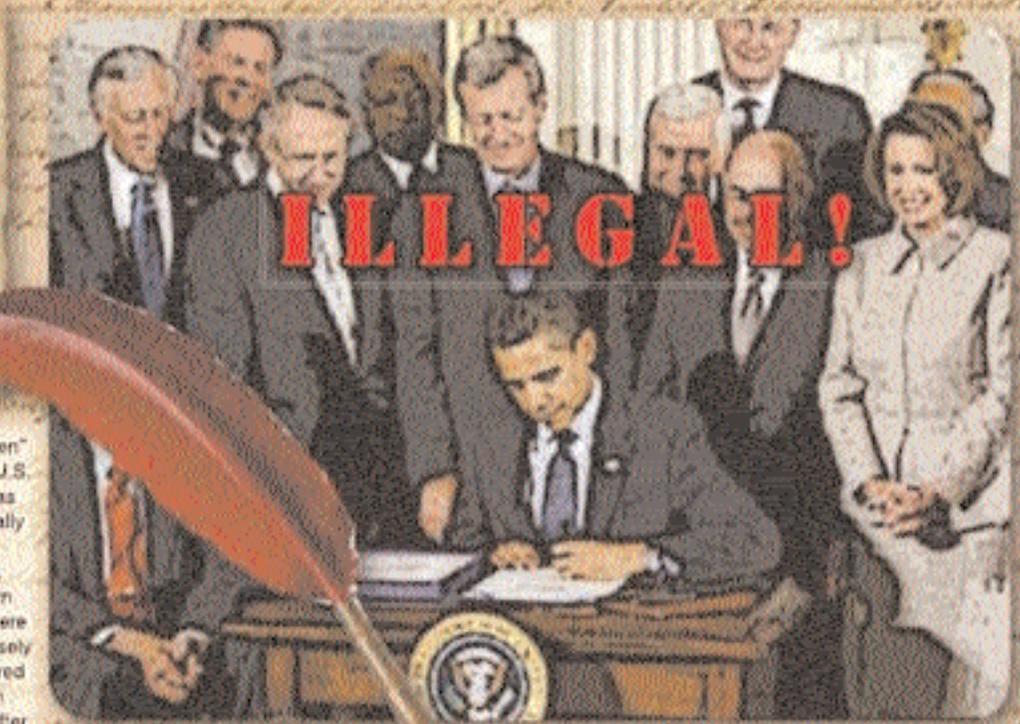

DEFINITION

The natives, or natural-born citizens, are those born in the country, of parents [both] who are citizens.

Emer de Vattel, "The Law of Nations and Principles of Natural Law," Vol. 1, Chap. 19, Sec. 212

"Citizen" of the U.S. if he was physically born in Hawaii, not born elsewhere and falsely registered as born there after the fact.

At birth, Barack Obama acquired dual citizenship through his British non-U.S. citizen father. Our Founders excluded dual citizens from eligibility to the Presidency for national security reasons.

Every military order Barack Obama gives as Commander-in-Chief, every bill he signs into law, and every executive decision he makes while unconstitutionally seated in the Office of President, are unconstitutional, and hence illegal. Obama is NOT a "natural born Citizen" of the USA.

The U.S. Courts and Congress MUST address the merits of the charges for this constitutional issue, and constitutionally remove Barack Obama in order to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States. This is their sworn Oath to the Constitution and to the American people.
