Coastal Sediment Studies: USGS Ridge to Reef

The image illustrates that fine sediment eroding from the hillslopes above the reef can stay on the reef for long periods, being resuspended by rough waves. This much sediment can significantly harm reef ecology.

In response to community concerns on Molokai and elsewhere in Hawaii about the health of reefs, the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) has partnered with Molokai residents to link changes in watersheds from climate change, invasive species and land use to declines in reef ecosystems using mapping, monitoring and modeling studies. With state-of-the-art scientific methods and tools, the USGS investigations address watershed processes and change, the transport pathways and fate of sediment and nutrients, and coral reef ecosystem response. When completed, we hope that this information will be used on Molokai and other islands to help communities preserve coral reefs and watersheds that are possibly threatened by accelerating climate change, sea level rise, and anticipated growth in the island's population.

There is compelling evidence that sediment, nutrients, and other watershed pollutants have negative effects on many coral reef ecosystems. By examining the pathways and concentrations of sediment and other pollutants, we are learning how they cause stress and deterioration of reef communities. Using remote sensing (satellite images and aerial photography) and on-the-reef instruments, we have made substantial progress in understanding the interaction between turbid (or cloudy) water and waves and currents on the reef. USGS partners at the Hawaii Institute of Marine Biology are helping to identify coral's response to varying levels of sedimentation and decreased light availability.

To estimate the amount of sediment flowing onto the reef from watersheds, the USGS has installed stream gages with suspended sediment collectors on Kauai and Molokai. These gages provide important information on suspended sediment to reef communities from steep, volcanic highlands. To improve our understanding of erosion rates on Molokai, the USGS has established an experimental site with a network of advanced sensors in a rapidly eroding (1.0 cm/yr) area in the Kawela ahupua'a. The instruments include a rain gage to measure the intensity and duration of rainfall, soil moisture sensors to measure how much water is in the soil, overland flow meters to measure how deep water flow is over the hillslopes, and a trough and pump to measure the amount of water and sediment flowing towards the reef. Complementary studies are underway to identify rates of erosion by different processes in source catchments by installing and monitoring an extensive network of erosion pins.

Vegetation maps are also being made of upland watershed areas to identify changes in historical land cover, and to serve as a baseline for understanding future habitat change. When the vegetation information is combined with measures of rainfall and soil strength, forecasts can be made of erosion under different plant communities.

Overall, the USGS investigations will provide new scientific information that watershed and coastal resource managers can use to make decisions that will help preserve the reefs of Molokai.

Kaunakakai STREAM Environmental Restoration Plan By Delwyn S. Oki, USGS

What are the effects of ground-water withdrawal on Kaunakakai Stream environmental restoration plan?

The proposed habitat-restoration site near the mouth of Kaunakakai Stream will provide habitat for the native Hawaiian Stilt (Himantopus mexicanus knudseni). The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is planning to create about 2.75 acres of wetland habitat in the area shown by removing sediment and lowering the streambed.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, in cooperation with the County of Maui Department of Public Works and Environmental Management, has proposed to construct 2.75 acres of shallow ponds and mudflats near the mouth of Kaunakakai Stream, to restore habitat for the endangered native Hawaiian Stilt. Kaunakakai Stream is ephemeral upstream from the habitat-restoration site. Where the pond and wetland bottoms are below the water table, the ponds and wetland will be sustained by ground-water discharge during dry-weather conditions. Because ground water is the main source of water for the proposed ponds and wetland, a reduction of ground-water levels and discharge near the mouth of Kaunakakai Stream will have an effect on the availability of habitat.

In response to concerns about the possible effects of ground-water withdrawal on the habitat restoration project near the mouth of Kaunakakai Stream, the U.S. Geological Survey undertook the present investigation to estimate, using an existing numerical ground-water-flow model, the changes in ground-water level and coastal discharge caused by redistributed and additional ground-water withdrawals from selected sites in the area between Kualapuu and Ualapue.

For the scenarios tested, model results indicate that withdrawals from existing and proposed wells cause a slight water-level decline in the vicinity of the Kaunakakai habitat-restoration site. In addition, model results indicate a reduction of ground-water discharge, ranging from 98,000 to 170,000 gal/d, to the model element containing the habitat-restoration site, perhaps less at the specific site, dependent on the bottom shape of the ponds. The salinity of ground-water discharging into the wetland area likely will increase in response to increased withdrawals upgradient from the site.

James Kimmel [72] Pleads No Contest for Religious Marijuana Use Faces 30 years prison

Former Molokai resident James Kimmel [72] now living in Kula, Maui, uses marijuana as a religious sacrament, but he pled no contest to two drug charges Monday in 2nd Circuit Court.

Kimmel was warned by Circuit Judge Joseph Cardoza that he could face up to 30 years in prison, unless his appeal succeeds.

Kimmel was arrested Feb. 22 at a Paia house where police said they found more than 2 pounds of processed marijuana. Kimmel has not denied using the drug, maintaining instead that he and others were using the marijuana as part of a service for the Religion of Jesus Church, which he founded in 1969 in Sonoma, Calif.

Kimmel's defense attorney, Michael Glenn, moved to dismiss the charges on the First Amendment grounds of freedom of religion. But Cardoza denied the request, saying a marijuana-use requirement in Kimmel's church appeared to be designed to shield users from prosecution rather than serve as part of a religious belief, and an appeal of Cardoza's ruling has not been decided.

Cardoza told Kimmel, he'd be eligible for a 10-year sentence on the charge of commercial promotion of a dangerous drug, which could be doubled under extended sentencing guidelines.

The second charge of possessing paraphernalia associated with drug promotion could bring a five-year term, which again could be doubled.

Cardoza said he also could decide to make the sentences consecutive, total 30 years prison.

Cardoza ordered a pre-sentence report and scheduled sentencing for Nov. 6.

Medical Marijuana Research Blocked by Federal D.E.A.

Did you know that along with raiding medical marijuana clinics and prosecuting people, the DEA is actually blocking research into medical marijuana too -- research that if allowed to take place could lead to marijuana's approval as a medicine through the FDA? Yet at the very same time, DEA hypocritically cites a lack of research as justification for keeping medical marijuana illegal!

The federal DEA has stalled an application from the University of Massachusetts to grow research-grade marijuana in a secure facility for FDA- and DEA-approved medical studies, contrary to the DEA's own Administrative Law Judge who said it should be approved.

August 20, 2007, in Placerville, California, Dr. Marion Fry [51], a medical marijuana user and cancer survivor, and her husband Dale [52] attorney were convicted by a federal jury on felony marijuana charges of cultivating and distributing from their state approved legal medical clinic. They face 5 years mandatory and up to $2-million fines. Their two teenage children will be taken away. "They really didn't give us a chance to defend ourselves....The jury should have at least been told what the state law is," Shafer said. "The bottom line is that we thought everything we did was legitimate under state law." Dr. Fry added "This is a slap in the face to the voters of California who approved medical marijuana....I only hope this doesn't mean the DEA will be out there chasing down more sick and dying people."

A supporter, Elvy Mussika, who receives free medical marijuana cigarettes from the federal government was outraged. "The prosecutor Anne Pings perjured herself when she said the federal government has nothing to do with medical marijuana," he said.

McCarthy Gun Ban Must Be Stopped !

The House of Representatives has fast-tracked new legislation to "improve" the National Instant Criminal Background Check System by allowing doctors to now decide who can own firearms. Doctors decide gun rights?!?!?!?!
The proposal, H.R. 2640, called "The NICS Improvement Act," is sponsored by U.S. Rep. Carolyn McCarthy.
Gun Owners of America is one of only a few organizations alerting consumers to the implications of the swift passage of a gun-ban bill in the U.S. House, without committee hearings, floor debate or a recorded vote and possibly without even a quorum present, has gun rights advocates nationwide asking what happened.
The bill was passed during the morning "Suspension Calendar," normally reserved for "non-controversial" bills. To slip through an expansion of gun control is highly irregular, with no similar action known in the past.
Psychiatrists and doctors would have an increased role in determining who gets on the list. The medical community has in the past exhibited pronounced anti-gun behaviors, bordering in some cases on hoplophobia, a morbid fear of guns.
"Under this bill, based solely on a diagnosis of a psychiatrist, an American's name could be dumped into the National Criminal Instant Check (NICS) system," said GOA Executive Director Larry Pratt who said the plan would "dramatically" expand the "dragnet" used to disqualify law-abiding gun buyers, including Veterans. Thousands of honest citizens who want to buy a gun will one day walk into a gun store and be shocked when they're told they're a prohibited purchaser.
An error rate of just one-tenth of one percent (very low for government work) would mean that 21,000 Americans will have their rights unjustly denied if the bill becomes law. No notice, no explanation, no appeal. (The bill says agencies "shall" act to keep records accurate, but nothing happens if they don't; no time frames for corrections are specified. In the past, federal and state officials have been known to stonewall, delay, deceive and claim impotence when confronted with requests to have rights restored to the innocent. Congress has refused to fund such reviews, which are required by law, since 1992, effectively eliminating a person's chance for due process.)
The Brady law, ostensibly to control handgun sales, initiated the entire project in 1993, at a cost of $250 million, plus subsequent allocations. The new bill adds $375 million per year for the next three years. In a 1998 surprise, the Brady Handgun law was automatically expanded to include all firearms.
Speaking to the CNN audience on June 13, head of the Brady Campaign, Paul Helmke, stated that, "We're hopeful that... now we can take the next step after this bill passes [to impose additional gun control]."
Get it? The McCarthy bill is just a first step," sau GOA.

ATF-lies Kill Gun Rights

The Editor of ATF Abuse was just contacted by the victim of this heinous attack on his civil rights by the Federal Gestapo, the ATF. Here is his update:
RE: Greg Pruess Legal Military Museum
I was finally proven innocent of the charges brought by the U.S. Attorney's office in N.C. that sent me to prison. This was done without an attorney and by myself in Federal Court in Statesville N.C. 10 years after the fact! I was indicted in 1994 and sent to prison wrongly in 1996.
The BATFE explosives agent Richard Campbell, under oath stated that the ammunition, 40mm and larger that I was indicted for as "Destructive Devices" were not then, nor are they now, Destructive devices without their launchers.
However, now that the evidence has finally come out that was never offered timely by the government as to the proper classification of the ammo, its too late, the Court says, to do anything about my false conviction!
Innocence has an expiration date, it seems, and no one cares. ATF destroyed my museum, my family, my reputation, my livelihood and sent me to prison! The justice system is a facade and cares nothing about setting anything right even when the government's own expert confirms the real truth under oath in open court.
What happens now, I was subsequently again indicted as a felon in possession of firearms in 1997 for keeping my gun collection of 25 years because I knew I was right but couldn't prove with the cover up, when I was actually never legally convicted in the first place to be a felon!
Its all a mess and there isn't any recourse it seems. Innocent but left convicted because innocence has an expiration date like food! That should be the title of the story, please use that if you will.
Anyone at NRA want to help? NRA funded my ineffective do nothing lawyer $10,000 in 1995, at least the rest of the story needs to be told.
No one in government is accountable for the wrongs done to me apparently, how can this be in America, anyone know a good lawyer who can help me repair my life and sue those involved and the lawyer then for doing nothing correctly and just not caring what happened to me???
Thanks, Greg Pruess 828-964-0044

New 9/11 Study: No 757 Plane Hit the Pentagon

by James Fetzer

A study of the black box data provided by the government to Pilots for 9/11 Truth has confirmed the previous findings of Scholars for 9/11 Truth that no Boeing 757 hit the Pentagon on 9/11. This new study by Pilots of the NTSB data, drives another nail into a coffin of lies told the American people by government that American Airlines Flight 77, a Boeing 757, hit the ground floor of the Pentagon after it skimmed over the lawn at 500 mph. The truth is that the Pilot's study shows that a large aircraft did head toward the Pentagon but did not impact with it. It swerved off and flew above the Pentagon.

The study was signed by fifteen professional pilots with extensive military and commercial carrier experience.

Four other facts also prove that no Boeing 757 hit the Pentagon:

(1) The hit point at the Pentagon was too small to accommodate a 100-ton airliner with a 125-foot wingspan and a tail that stands 44 feet above the ground; the kind and quantity of debris was wrong for a Boeing 757: there were no wings, no fuselage, no seats, no bodies, no luggage, no tail! Not even the engines were recovered, and they are practically indestructible.

(2) Of an estimate 84 videotapes of the crash, the three that have been released by the Pentagon do not show a Boeing 757 hitting the building. There are indications of a much smaller plane, but not a Boeing 757.

(3) Indeed, the aerodynamics of flight would have made the official trajectory--flying more than 500 mph barely above ground level--physically impossible, because of the accumulation of a massive pocket of compressed air beneath the fuselage; and if it had come it at an angle instead, it would have created a massive crater; but there is no crater and the official trajectory is impossible.

(4) Flying low enough to impact with the ground floor would have meant that the enormous engines were plowing the ground and creating massive furrows; but there are no massive furrows. The smooth, unblemished surface of the Pentagon lawn thus stands as a "smoking gun" proving the official trajectory cannot be sustained.

The government's report that 19 Islamic fundamentalists hijacked four commercial airliners, outfoxed the most sophisticated air-defense system in the world, and committed these 911 atrocities under the control of a man in a cave in Afghanistan. is the big lie: THE 9/11 CONSPIRACY. Clearly, evidence shows government agency involvement in the 9/11 attacks on the Pentagon and Twin Towers.

"Don't be taken in by photos showing damage to the second floor or those taken after the upper floors collapsed, which happened 20-30 minutes later," Fetzer said. "In fact, debris begins to show up on the completely clean lawn in short order, which might have been dropped from a C-130 that was circling above the Pentagon or placed there by men in suits who were photographed carrying debris with them." The most striking is a piece from the fuselage of a commercial airliner, which James Hanson, a newspaper reporter, has traced to an American Airlines 757 that crashed in a rain forest above Cali, Columbia in 1995. This crash debris is not from 9/11.

"The Pentagon has become a kind of litmus test for rationality in the study of 9/11," Fetzer said. "Those who persist in maintaining that a Boeing 757 hit the building are either unfamiliar with the evidence or cognitively impaired. Unless," he added, "they want to mislead the American people. The evidence is beyond clear and compelling. It places this issue 'beyond a reasonable doubt'."

No Boeing 757 hit the Pentagon.

So, why are our soldiers being sent to WAR ?

A U.S. soldier in Iraq asks in despair: Why are we here?

After watching his roommate fatally wounded in a roadside bombing, an Army private wonders why the lives of good men are being lost when the Iraqis had no part in 9/11, Iraqis pose no threat to us, and don't want us in Iraq.

Yes, indeed, WHY ? Ron Paul will bring the troops home! Vote Ron Paul!

Gulag Hawaii: Lingle's crimes

Hawaii has Linda Lingle, convicted of felony and disqualified from office by law, still usurping the office of governor because all the enforcement people government agents work for her and won't enforce the judgment against Lingle.

The governor of Hawaii has the power to protect Hawaii's American Citizens from IRS thugs and racketeering, but the Usurper Lingle is in collusion with the feds and will not protect us.

If we enforce the law and remove Lingle because she is convicted of felonies and thus disqualified by law from holding office, a new governor lawfully holding office and in awe of The People who enforce the law, will simply do his duty to protect the People from thugs and criminals of the foreign power, I.R.S.

Don't wait until it too late to act!

"And how we burned in the camps later, thinking: What would things have been like if every Security operative [insert your favorite alphabet Gang DEA, BATFE, H.S., TSA, FBI, IRS, NSA, CIA, LEOs etc. here], when he went out at night to make an arrest, had been uncertain whether he would return alive and had to say goodbye to his family? Or if, during periods of mass arrests, as for example in Leningrad, when they arrested a quarter of the entire city, people had not simply sat there in their lairs, paling in terror at every bang of the downstairs door and at every step on the staircase, but had understood they had nothing left to lose [neither do you now] and had boldly set up in the downstairs hall an ambush of half a dozen people with axes, hammers, pokers, or whatever else was at hand. The Organs would very quickly have suffered a shortage of officers and transports and, notwithstanding all of Stalin's thirst; the cursed machine would have ground to a halt!"

Crimes of Politicians Must Be Stopped by The People (You are The Militia)

The crime on our streets is a tiny fraction of the crime in the offices of our politicians and bureaucrats - the massive majority of crime is committed by the criminal classes in power. Just look at the constant abuse of power in our State government offices and you will realize the extent of crime in Government. Just consider just how many BILLIONS of dollars a day Government extorts from the people and how little WE get in return; and just how comfortable the politicians make themselves at the expense of the peoples they extort!

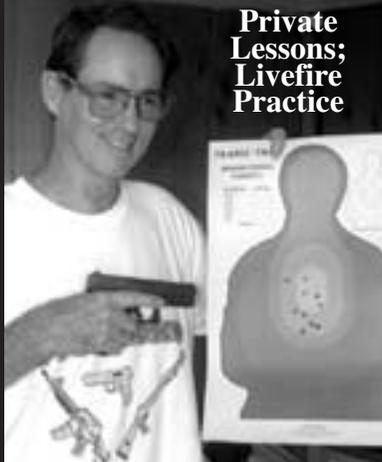

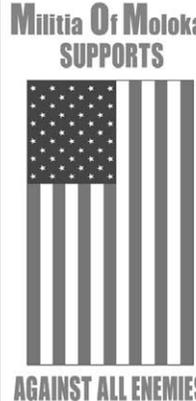

The goal of the founders of America was to restrict government within severe limits and to protect the rights of sovereign individuals. Government has NO rights!

Judges are impeachable. Furthermore, judges may be removed immediately for violating oaths of office, involvement in conspiracies, extortion, and failing to uphold their duty to the common law. Judges can also be arrested, they are not exempt from this nor are any other officials, including the President of the United States.

Do the people have the power to do this? Yes, the people have the power to do everything to defend our country against all enemies foreign or domestic politician, and government has no power to say otherwise. Fascist bureaucrats might send out its armed marauders, but a huge group of The People (Militia) armed with guns as guaranteed their Right to keep and bear arms by the 2nd Amendment is likely to stop them unless the governments decide that it is time to begin mass killings of all people who believe in the rights of Man.
